B.C. Liberals May Come Here To Name Leader

VANCOUVER (Special)—D. J. Proudfoot, president of the Victoria Liberal Association, said here today that Victoria was being considered for the convention of the British Columbia Liberal Party at which a new provincial leader will be named.

Mr. Proudfoot, who headed the Victoria Liberal Association delegates to the provincial executive meeting of the party, said that hotel accommodation was the big factor which would decide whether the convention would be held here or in Victoria.

At the same time Mr. Proudfoot said that it was the hope of the party leaders that the convention would be held before the civic elections in British Columbia during the second week of December. This means that the convention may be held during the first week or the early part of the second week of December.

While a Liberal convention, which will be attended by delegates from all parts of the province, probably numbering several hundred, will name a leader of the party, selection of the leader of the government will rest with members of the Legislature.

Neither the Liberals nor the Conservatives in 1941 had sufficient members elected to the provincial Legislature to command a majority. Rather than attempt to carry on with a minority government, the Liberals in convention then supported the formation of a coalition administration under Premier John Hart, with a three-two representation of Liberals and Conservatives in the government.

The Hart Coalition administration, with the late Attorney-General R. L. Maitland, K.C., as deputy premier and leader of the Conservative wing, functioned smoothly, winning a strong majority in the Legislature in October, 1945, when the government went to the polls under a Coalition banner rather than the individual party banners. Since the death of Mr. Maitland, Hon. Herbert Anscomb has served as deputy premier and Conservative leader.

While the formal meetings of the party executive, which was attended by all B.C. members of the House of Commons and 11 delegates from Victoria, were wound up Thursday night, unofficial business is going on today, with the majority of the delegates planning to return to their homes tonight.

Mr. Proudfoot said there was plenty of talk on the sidelines of the executive meeting about who the new leader of the party would be.

Speculation has suggested the names of several provincial cabinet ministers as well as outsiders.

Not In Politics, Says MacKenzie

Among the first suggestions to be squelched was that which held that Dr. Norman A. M. MacKenzie, president of the University of British Columbia and a life-long Liberal, should take on the leadership of the party.

"I am not in politics," said Mr. MacKenzie. "I have enough trouble on my hands without taking on this thing. This is one matter about which there can be no question."

Selection of a new leader for the Liberal Party was made necessary with the announcement of Premier Hart that he would retire. This announcement was made to the provincial executive of the Liberal Party Thursday afternoon during a meeting at the Hotel Vancouver.

Mr. Hart suggested that his successor be named at a convention of the party in December. After a prolonged holiday, Mr. Hart said he would re-enter private business as president of Gillespie, Hart & Co. Ltd., Victoria financial house.

Attending the executive meeting, beside Mr. Hart and Mr. Proudfoot, were two other Victoria legislators, Mrs. Nancy Hodges and W. T. Straith, and the following representatives of Liberal organizations: Arthur Cox, J. Maltman, E. M. Whyte, Earl Pollock, Emerson Smith, Mrs. J. L. Gates, and Miss T. N. Howe.

Queen Whilhelmina Rests From Duties

THE HAGUE (AP)—The Netherlands announced today that Queen Wilhelmina would temporarily lay down her royal power in the near future for reasons of health and that Crown Princess Juliana would act as Princess Regent.

The announcement said legislation would be introduced shortly in Parliament to permit transfer of the royal power.

The bulletin emphasized, however, that while the 67-year-old Queen was not in the best of health, there was no reason for alarm over her condition.

The Queen was reported Sept. 24 to be suffering from fatigue, and her secretariat said she was going to her summer palace, Het Loo, for a rest.

Yugoslavs Sentence Priest To 6 Years

BELGRADE (AP)—Rev. Stephano Cek, a Roman Catholic parish priest, was sentenced Thursday to six years at forced labor for "instigating bloodshed" in Lanische Aug. 24, when one priest was slain and another wounded.

Msgr. Jakok Ukmar, a Vatican prelate, the priest who was wounded, was sentenced to one month at forced labor, but under the law he was deemed to have served this sentence while in prison awaiting trial.

Arabs Of Palestine Start General Strike In Protest

JERUSALEM (AP)—A general strike of Palestine Arabs, beginning at dawn in protest against the proposed partition of the Holy Land, paralyzed all Arab sections today and sent hundreds of thousands pouring into mosques for prayer.

The streets were crowded with Arab pedestrians, since all Arab buses stayed in garages and pickets ranged around bus stops to prevent Arabs from riding in Jewish buses.

Falastin, Christian-Arab newspaper in Jaffa, appeared with a heavy black border around its front page and carried a head line reading: "Palestine day today is funeral of all enemies of Arab world."

Emile Ghoury, member of the Arab Higher Executive Committee, addressed Moslems in the Mosque el Aksa at midmorning and read a message from the exiled Grand Mufti, Amin el Husseini. Several other speakers also exhorted Arabs to display unity against Jewish political aspirations.

Palestine police, on the alert since dawn, had tommy-gunners replacing the usual riflemen on foot patrol. Rolls of barbed wire were hauled to position at all seven gates of the old walled city for use in case the Arabs should try to demonstrate in modern Jerusalem.

Dodgers Bounce Back; Beat Yanks In Ninth, 3 To 2

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, N.Y.—Cookie Lavagetto, utility infielder of the Dodgers was cast in hero's role in Flatbush today when he banged out a pinch-hit double in the last of the ninth inning to score two runs and give the Dodgers a 3 to 2 victory in the fourth game of the World Series with the New York Yankees.

Bill Floyd Bevens, strapping righthander of the New York Yankees, had pitched hitless ball for 8 and 2-3 innings before Lavagetto unloaded the game winning blow.

Bevens also set another mark when he walked ten Dodgers, the final two free tickets causing him his downfall, as both men scored.

Brooklyn's victory ties the series at two games each.

Mountbatten Joins Anglican Church

LONDON (AP)—Lieut. Philip Mountbatten has embraced the faith of the Kings and Queens of Britain in preparation for his marriage Nov. 20 to Princess Elizabeth.

Buckingham Palace disclosed today the former Greek prince was received into the Church of England by the Archbishop of Canterbury in the chapel of Lambeth Palace. Mountbatten previously was a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

Prewar Records Beaten As Island Tourist Season Ends

Victoria has just concluded the greatest tourist season in its history, with Canadian custom officials handling 53,910 cars carrying 160,902 passengers at Victoria and Sidney up to Sept. 30, George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, announced today.

"The season was unequalled and beyond the most optimistic expectations of anyone connected with the tourist industry," Mr. Warren said today, in giving a resume of the tourist season 1947. "It would have been even higher had the transportation companies had sufficient facilities to bring more cars here."

On the statistical side he noted an increase of 35 per cent in cars crossing the international border and handled by the Canadian customs this year over last year.

Cars bearing foreign licenses entering the island through Victoria or Sidney totaled 45,397, carrying 134,495 passengers as compared with 34,547 cars carrying 104,449 passengers for the same period last year.

"That is an increase in foreign cars over last year of 32 per cent," he added.

An increase of 57 per cent was noted in the number of Canadian cars handled this year over last year. A total of 8,513 cars with Canadian licenses carrying 26,407 passengers were handled this year, compared with 5,436 carrying 16,182 last year.

GREATER THAN PREWAR

Prewar figures are less than half those for 1947. As an example, Mr. Warren took the year, 1937, when 10,407 cars with foreign licenses entered B.C. through ports of Victoria and Sidney. This year to date 23,915 cars have entered.

Leading the foreign car field were those from California, totaling 7,100, almost as many as from Washington and Oregon combined.

Big Four Deputies Meet To Talk Over Italian Colonies

LONDON (CP) — Sir Noel Charles, special deputy for Foreign Secretary Bevin, opened the Italian colonies conference today with a call for as much speed as possible in the dispatch of an investigation commission to the territories.

Sir Noel said Bevin "is pleased that our respective governments have lost no time in arranging for these meetings of deputies to set in motion the work of deciding the future of the ex-Italian possessions in Africa."

The deputies assembled to discuss the future of what Benito Mussolini was pleased to call the "New Roman Empire," on the 12th anniversary of Italy's attack on Ethiopia.

Italy renounced sovereignty over Cyrenaica and Tripolitania in North Africa, Eritrea and Italian Somaliland in East Africa under the peace treaty which became effective Sept. 15. Neither the Paris peace conference nor the Big Four Foreign Ministers, however, were able to agree on final disposition of those colonies.

Britain, France, Russia and the United States have until Sept. 15, 1948, to settle the issue. If they fail, the problem, by the terms of the peace treaty, will fall into the lap of the United Nations. In the meanwhile, Britain is acting as temporary trustee.

Split In Seamen's Union Scored By Trades And Labor Conference

HAMILTON (CP) — Dual unionism among Canadian seamen's labor groups was criticized at today's concluding session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention.

A resolution adopted by the delegates classed as a dual union the Seafarers' International Union of America (A.F.L.) and declared it could not be affiliated to any trades and labor council.

Congress president Percy Bengough said the C.S.U. was the only Congress-recognized organization for seamen in the Dominion. The executive had been in consultation with the A.F.L. on the issue.

Delegates from British Columbia—where the S.I.U. is affiliated at Victoria and Vancouver—declared the problem should be dealt with by seeking unity with the S.I.U. rather than by barring it.

OFFICERS ATTACKED

T. G. McManus, C.S.U. secretary-treasurer, charged the S.I.U. had been making attacks on the T.L.C. officers and was "disruptive."

Other developments at the convention today included:

1. A request for workmen's compensation covering all workers and providing "full earnings."

2. Refusal of the delegates to class bingo as a game of chance, as asked by the Quebec Federation of Labor.

3. A call for equal citizenship for Indians, with protection for their reservation property rights.

4. Decision to take no action on a proposal for a bill of rights until the International Labor Office has submitted its draft charter of rights for ratification to the federal government and the congress.

These followed a tumultuous discussion on Communist influence in the labor movement and adoption of a resolution calling for a special session of parliament to haul down prices.

17,000 TO COME

Reconstruction Minister Howe told the convention 17,000 displaced persons had been accepted for migration to Canada and would be moved here as quickly as possible.

The federal government wanted to bring in as many displaced persons as possible without upsetting the country's economy. Canada's expansion had reached the point where it was limited by available manpower. It was not safe for Canada's people to think they could hold this vast country against the crowded areas of Europe.

It was the government's policy to bring immigrants to Canada in groups, he said.

Plan To Plunge Into Ice, Snow For Missionary

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—An R.C.A.F. Dakota carrying four Canadian army paratroopers equipped to make a mercy drop 400 miles north of the Arctic Circle took off at 9.25 a.m., C.S.T., today on the second lap of its flight to Moffat Inlet.

There Rev. Canon John H. Turner, a missionary of the Church of England in Canada, accidentally shot and wounded last month, lies in his lonely mission dwelling seriously ill and tended by his wife, Jean, a registered nurse. The couple's two children are the only other white inhabitants within a 70-mile radius.

The Dakota's crew expected to reach Coral Harbor on Southampton Island about 12.45 p.m. today and planned to refuel.

FO. Bob Race, pilot, notified the base here by radio that he might attempt the drop today. "Coral Harbor has been advised to have petrol available at the air strip and if no delay in refueling and Arctic Bay weather permits, will attempt drop today," he said.

Otherwise the last leg will be completed tomorrow. It is a three-hour flight from Coral Harbor to Moffat Inlet.

DOCTOR FIRST

It was said the first to parachute would be Capt. Ross Willoughby, an army doctor. He would be followed by veteran paratrooper Capt. Guy d'Artois and Sgts. H. C. Cook and W. W. Judd, the latter two signallers who will establish wireless contact with air bases hundreds of miles away.

After careful briefing on weather, navigation and topography, the rescue squad flew from Rivers, Man., to Churchill Thursday and was grounded overnight at this northern Manitoba army-air force base by adverse weather conditions.

During the refueling stop at Southampton Island, the paratroopers were due to bid farewell to a four-year-old Eskimo passenger, Chinook, who spent the last six weeks in a Winnipeg hospital recovering from burns received when a kerosene lamp overturned in her Southampton Island home.

WILD REGION

The flight from the wind-swept Coral Bay air field to Moffat Inlet takes in 560 air miles over wild, desolate terrain.

The mission is located on a tiny spit of land jutting into the mouth of Bartlett Bay. Immediately behind stands a ragged cliff of rocks 200 to 500 feet in height.

Due to the rough nature of the country the decision was made to drop the paratroopers rather than attempt a plane landing at this time. Later, when the lakes nearby have frozen solid, plans call for an aircraft to land and remove the ailing clergyman to a hospital.

But several weeks may elapse before that can be done.

Persons who know the subarctic describe Moffat Inlet as "one of the most difficult places in the north to get into."

Plan Labor Court

VANCOUVER (CP)—Creation of a labor court to remove some of the defects which have developed in the administration of British Columbia's new labor code may be ordered by the government soon.

Premier John Hart, it was reported here today, is understood to favor the creation of a special labor court with streamlined rules and procedure to prevent delays which have embarrassed the new labor law in the ordinary courts.

The court would have exclusive jurisdiction in disputes coming under the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, known to labor as "Bill 39."

Council Opposes Sales Tax; Cautious On Business Tax

Members of the City Council, at a special meeting today, indicated they did not favor imposition of a sales tax by the provincial government for education and hospital expenses, although they were cautious in their support of the alternative business tax as a means of getting more municipal revenue.

Mayor George opened the debate by stating definitely that he was opposed to the sales tax, and favored the business tax on a classification basis.

Ald. Edward Williams, Ald. B. J. Gadsden and Ald. H. M. Diggon in the course of the debate indicated their opposition to the sales tax as proposed at the recent convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

Ald. Diggon continued, however, with an opposition to the business tax also, stressing that while the provincial government was able to pile up a surplus of $40,000,000 over a six-year period, it did not seem fair to impose further taxes on the businessmen of the city. He questioned strongly whether or not some means could not be found whereby the municipalities could share in this immense surplus.

Both Mayor George and Ald. Williams stressed that the alternative to either business or sales tax would be higher taxes on land and improvements, which they felt were too high now. In opposing the sales tax as proposed by the U.B.C.M., Mayor George recalled what had happened to the provincially-collected taxes of the Municipal Aid Act in 1929. He pointed out that now the municipalities were getting virtually no benefit from them, and the same could happen to the sales tax revenues at the discretion of the province.

"Sales tax will merely raise the cost of living for the old age pensioners and others with fixed incomes," he said.

Ald. Gadsden expressed the fear that imposition of a business tax would drive many businessmen into the outlying municipalities and do damage to Victoria's commercial district. This sentiment was echoed by Ald. Diggon who thought chain stores, in particular, might move to outlying districts.

Ald. F. N. Cabeldu, however, said that businesses would not move from the centre of town, in his opinion, and away from the harbor landing.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner and Ald. R. A. C. Dewar also indicated that during the afternoon they would oppose any idea of supporting sales tax.

Vancouver B.C.E.R. Men Reject Plan To Avert Strike

VANCOUVER (CP) — Threat of a transportation tie-up in Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster loomed today with workers of the British Columbia Electric Railway calling for a strike vote Oct. 8.

Wage negotiations between the company and its 2,600 streetcar and bus workers collapsed when the rank and file in the Vancouver local of the Street Railwaymen's Union refused to consider a settlement pattern worked out by union-management representatives.

Workers in New Westminster accepted the proposal calling for a 7½ cents an hour wage increase and a 42-hour work week, but now will reconsider the decision at a special week-end meeting.

Victoria members are to decide today if they will take a strike vote next Wednesday. Lloyd Easler, union chief, is in Victoria today.

There was no comment from company officials. They will wait for a report from the union's negotiating committee before any statements are made.

Victoria Officer Helps Solve Problems At Duesseldorf

DUESSELDORF, Germany (CP)—Thousands of miles from his home in Victoria, B.C., Lt.-Col. C. W. Barker, whose mother lives at 1902 Cook Street, is helping in the uphill task of restoring order to one of the worst-bombed towns of the Ruhr valley.

As resident officer for Duesseldorf, the Canadian Army veteran holds office under the British Control Commission as an adviser to local German administrations which, since last January, have resumed control of many branches of civic affairs.

Touring the rubbled streets of the town, Col. Barker told how, apart from lack of materials, building and repair work have been "stalemated" by the shortage of labor.

"This is something of a vicious circle," he said, "as the labor shortage is largely due to lack of living accommodation. The evacuation of displaced persons—German slave labor — from Duesseldorf after the occupation left a large gap in our manpower.

"We could bring mobile labor here, only there is no accommodation for them."

Col. Barker deals with a number of personal problems which reach his desk. One recent case was that of a German family which emigrated to Canada before the Nazi regime. Soon after they had returned to Germany for a holiday, war broke out and the Nazis refused them permission to go back to their farm in Saskatchewan.

"They are still trying to return," he said, "but there are many intergovernment details to be settled first."

Cyanide Poisoning Suggested As Cause Of Poliomyelitis

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A Syracuse pediatrician, Dr. Ralph R. Scobey, who firmly believes cyanide poisoning causes infantile paralysis, has put his finger on unripe fruit, among other things, as a source of the dread disease.

Dr. Sobey's beliefs are published in a series of articles in the Archives of Pediatrics, a monthly publication of children's diseases. He claims:

1. It never has been proved that the virus of poliomyelitis can cause that disease in human beings.

2. It has been proved that polio can be caused by cyanide poisoning.

His idea of how infantile paralysis is caused departs radically from recognized polio research. He says polio is only one of a group of diseases caused by cyanide poisoning. In this group he lists goitre and paralytic shellfish disease.

Dr. Scobey says cyanide is present in varying amounts in practically all foods. It also is present in forage and in polluted water. Some types of bacteria can produce cyanide.

Dr. Scobey considers the iodine, vitamin C and calcium in foods to be protective against cyanide.

One explanation of the summer prevalence of infantile paralysis, he says, is the loss of iodine and vitamin C from the body in perspiration, which lowers the resistance to cyanide.

Arctic Region Still Holds Fate Of Little Schooner, Crew Of 4

EDMONTON (CP) — Bleak Arctic seas today still held secret the fate of the little Eskimo schooner Kostic, carrying freight to northern Hudson's Bay Company points, and her crew of four which disappeared in a fierce gale 16 days ago, a blow which wrecked another vessel and sent a third scurrying to port.

Northwest Air Command headquarters dispatched a Canso amphibious aircraft from Norman Wells, 1,100 miles northwest of here, in search. But the plane has yet to report if it sighted the missing vessel or her crewmen.

The Kostic left Tuktoyaktur at the mouth of the Mackenzie River Sept. 8 for Holman Island in the western Arctic Ocean in company with two other vessels, the Blue Fox and the Lady Richardson. All were heavily laden with company supplies.

Later the gale struck. The Blue Fox managed to reach Holman Island Sept. 20 after a 16-day trip, but the Lady Richardson was wrecked off Cape Parry. Her crew escaped ashore in a dinghy which had been in the ship's cargo and they returned to Tuktoyaktuk.

SINKS IN 2 HOURS

The Lady Richardson went down in two hours after striking a reef as she sought anchorage near the cape about halfway to Holman Island.

Capt. Anderson of the Lady Richardson said the weather on the ttrip was "exceptionally stormy." The last time he saw the Kostic was Sept. 16 at Baillie Island.

Company officials at Tuktoyaktuk and Holman Island expressed fear for the safety of the Kostic's crewmen because of recent stormy weather. A freeze-up could be expected in the north within the next 10 days and would add to the difficulty of the search.

U.S. Dollar Lack Big Problem Says Victoria Member

VANCOUVER (CP) — Canada's foreign exchange position is the big problem at Ottawa today, said R. W. Mayhew, Victoria M.P., and parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, who has been at Ottawa during Mr. Abbott's absence and who arrived in Vancouver Thursday for the B.C. Liberal executive meeting.

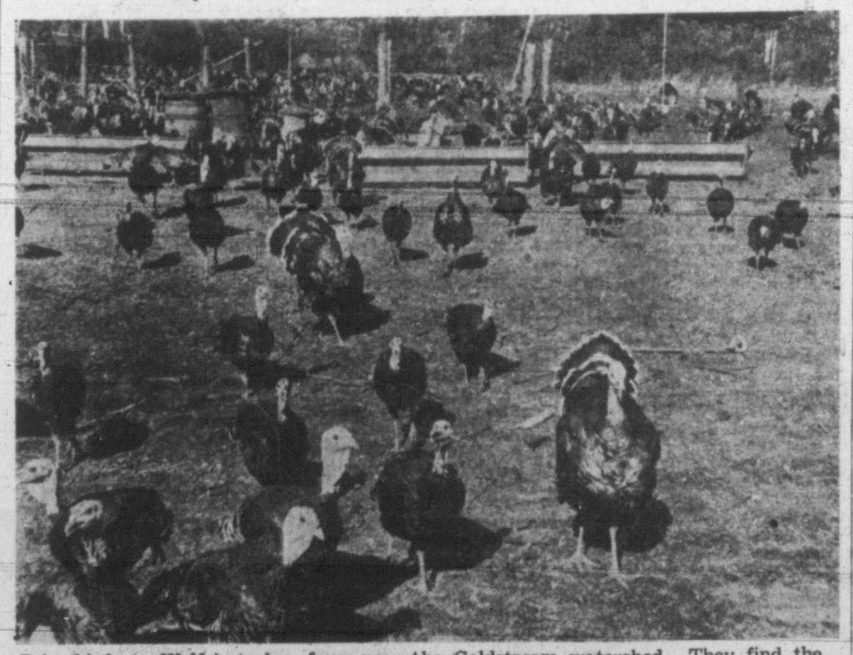
"The condition demands more production in Canada and better salesmanship of our goods," said Mr. Mayhew.

"For us in Canada it is not a matter of austerity, but of more goods and better living.

"Our disadvantage in trade with the United States means that the difference between our imports and our exports offers an opportunity to our manufacturers, small as well as large, to step out and see where they can fill in with their production to make up the gap caused by the surplus imports. It is an opportunity for our producers."

Now that Finance Minister Abbott is back in Ottawa, Mr. Mayhew said he would remain in British Columbia until the opening of the next session of Parliament at the new year.

Thanksgiving Turkeys Ready For Axe



Prize birds on Wolfe's turkey farm near the Goldstream watershed. They find the camera less menacing than the farmer's axe.

The big gobblers of Vancouver Island turkey farms are feeling a bit down today.

It isn't their general health which is excellent. It also isn't their appetite. The explanation is that Thanksgiving Day is not far off, and each one of 1,400 birds are wondering if he'll get a reprieve until Christmas. Oct. 13 does not give them much time.

Most of the flocks between here and Nanaimo which average about 1,400 to 1,500 birds, are expected to be depleted by some 200 each in order to supply the Victoria market. Killing will start this week-end.

"There should be sufficient birds for the local market, although there will be no surplus," says Bruce Cash of Esquimalt "This has been a very good turkey season and the birds are better and will be in better supply than last year.

"Most of the birds, of course, are for the Christmas trade."

With less than a dozen days to go before the annual holiday, which would be incomplete without a handsome gobbler cooked to a turn, centring the festive table, the turkeys are not happy.

"It's a sad life and you can quote me to that effect," said one of them today. "They just fatten us up for the kill. It is not civilized."

World Series—Play By Play

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, N.Y.—Play by play account of the fourth game of the 1947 World Series between the New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers follows:

FIRST INNING

Yankees—Stirnweiss smacked the first pitch into left field for a single. Hal Gregg began warming up in the Dodger bullpen. Henrich singled into centrefield, Stirnweiss stopping at second. Berra grounded sharply to Robinson who threw to Reese covering second in an attempted force play but Reese dropped the ball for an error and all hands were safe. DiMaggio walked on four straight pitches, Stirnweiss crossing the plate as the bases remained loaded. That was all for Taylor and Hal Gregg replaced him on the mound. McQuinn popped to Reese at shortstop, the runners holding. Johnson rapped into a lightning double play, Reese to Stanky to Robinson.

One run, two hits, one error.

Dodgers—Stanky walked. On a hit and run play, Reese rapped through the box but Stirnweiss made a nice gloved-hand stop behind second base and threw to first to get the hitter as Stanky slid safely into second. Johnson slipped fielding Robinson's bounding ball, but recovered and threw him out as Stanky held second. Bevins walked Walker. Hermanski fouled to Johnson near the third base field boxes.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SECOND INNING

Yankees — Reese backed up for Lindell's hopper and threw him out at first. Rizzuto rapped a single into left field. Rizzuto stole second. Bevens lined to Furillo, Rizzuto holding second. Stirnweiss went down swinging.

No runs, one hit, no errors.

Dodgers — Edwards struck out, missing a third strike. Furillo was an easy out, Rizzuto to McQuinn. Jorgensen walked on a three and two pitch. Gregg struck out on three pitches.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING

Yankees — Gregg struck out Henrich. Robinson grabbed Berra's hard grounder and beat the runner to the bag for an unassisted putout. DiMaggio walked for the second straight time. McQuinn topped a roller in front of the plate and when Edwards threw wild to first McQuinn raced to second on the error. DiMaggio, who had raced to third, tried to score on the play but Walker fired a throw to Edwards who tagged DiMaggio standing up.

No runs, one hit, one error.

Dodgers — Stanky walked for the second straight time. Lindell came in fast to catch Reese's fly in short left. Bevens' first pitch to Robinson was wild and Stanky raced to second. Lindell made a sensational tumbling catch of Robinson's foul fly in the extreme left field corner. Johnson caught Walker's pop behind third base.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING

Yankees—Johnson smashed a triple into the deepest centrefield corner. Lindell doubled off the screen in right centre, scoring Johnson. Rizzuto bounced to Robinson. Lindell moved to third. Reese fumbled Bevens' sharp grounder but recovered in time to throw him out as Lindell held third. Stirnweiss was called out on strikes.

One run, two hits, no errors.

Dodgers—DiMaggio raced far back into deep centrefield to make a spectacular gloved-hand catch of Hermanski's long smash. DiMaggio apparently twisted his right ankle after catching the ball and time was called as the Yankee trainer trotted out. Edwards was called out on strikes. Furillo fouled to Berra behind the plate.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING

Yankees—Henrich grounded to Reese. Stanky made a brilliant one-handed pick-up of Berra's savage drive and tossed him out. DiMaggio popped to Stanky.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dodgers—Jorgenson walked on five pitches. Gregg fouled off a pitch, then took four bad ones for a base on balls moving Jrgenson to second. Joe Page—lefthanded ace—and Randy Gumpert, a righthander, started warming up in the Yankee bullpen. Stanky dropped a sacrifice bunt in front of the plate and was out, Berra to Stirnweiss. Jorgensen moved to third and Gregg to second. Reese bounced to Rizzuto who flipped to Johnson who tagged Gregg sliding into third. Jorgensen scored on a fielder's choice and Reese was safe at first. Reese stole second and continued on Berra's wild throw which bounced off Rizzuto's glove and rolled into centrefield. Robinson went down swinging.

One run, no hits, one error.

SIXTH INNING

Yankees — McQuinn was called out on strikes. Hermanski raced in fast to gather in Johnson's fly. Lindell walked. Rizzuto lined to Furillo in dead centre.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dodgers — Walker walked. Hermanski popped to Stirnweiss who made the catch just inside the foul line behind first base. Edwards struck out for the third straight time. Furillo flied to Henrich in right.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Yankees—Bevens struck out. Stirnweiss walked on a three and two pitch. Henrich bounced to Gregg who started a double play, Gregg to reese to Robinson.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

Dodgers — Jorgensen lined to DiMaggio. Arky Vaughan, a left-handed hitter, was sent in to hit for Gregg. Vaughan walked. It was the eighth base on balls issued by Bevens, one short of the record of nine given up by Jack Coombs of the Philadelphia Athletics in the 1910 World Series. Stanky popped to Rizzuto behind second base. McQuinn made a fine stop of Reese's torrid smash along the first base line and stepped on the bag for the unassisted putout.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING

Yankees—Hank Behrman, a righthander, now pitching for the Dodgers. Berra grounded sharply to Stanky who threw him out. Jorgensen fumbled DiMaggio's easy roller enabling Joe to reach first on the error. Hermanski raced over to left-centre to haul in McQuinn's high fly. Jorgensen came in fast to scoop up Johnson's roller and threw him out.

No runs, no hits, one error.

Dodger — Robinson hit the first pitch on one bounce directly to Johnson who threw him out. Walker tapped to Bevens who easily tossed him out at first. This enabled Bevens to tie Red Ruffing's world series record of the feat in the opening game of the 1942 series against the Cardinals. Henrich made a sensational gloved-hand leaping catch of Hermanski's drive which appeared headed for the scoreboard and a certain extra base hit to retire the side and assist Bevens in creating a new world series mark by pitching eight complete hitless innings

No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING

Yankees—Lindell singled into left. Rizzuto tapped to Behrman who threw to Reese at second to force Lindell. Bevens bunted in front of the plate and Edwards threw too late to catch Rizzuto at second, all runners being safe. It was scored as a sacrifice for Bevens and a fielder's choice. Stirnweiss dropped a lazy single into short centrefield, Rizzuto reaching third and Bevens second. Hugh Casey, yesterday's Dodger pitching hero, replaced Behrman on the mound. Henrich tapped Casey's first pitch back to the box and the portly Dodger pitcher started an inning-ending double play when he fired to Edwards at the plate forcing Rizzuto and Edwards to Robinson at first to catch Henrich.

No runs, two hits, no errors.

Dodgers—Edwards stepped to the plate. The first pitch was a ball. So was the second. Edwards cracked the next pitch on a line into deep left field but Lindell backed up against the wall and hauled in the drive. Furillo walked, the pitch bouncing past Berra against the screen but Furillo was unable to pass first. This was Bevens' ninth walk to tie the record set by Coombs. Jorgensen fouled to McQuinn who made the catch near the first base field boxes. Reiser, lefthanded batter, pinch hit for Casey. Gionfriddo lit out for second and slid in safely under Berra's high throw. It was a stolen base. Reiser was then given an intentional base on balls, the tenth walk by Bevens which set a new world series mark. Ed Miksis ran for Reiser and Harry Lavagetto—a righthanded batter—was sent in to hit for Stanky. Lavagetto cracked a double over Henrich's head off the rightfield wall, the first hit of the game off Bevens scoring Gionfriddo and Miksis with the tying and winning runs.

Two runs, one hit, no errors.

Line score follows:

		R.	H.	E.
Yankees	100 100 000	2	8	1
Dodgers	000 010 002	3	1	3

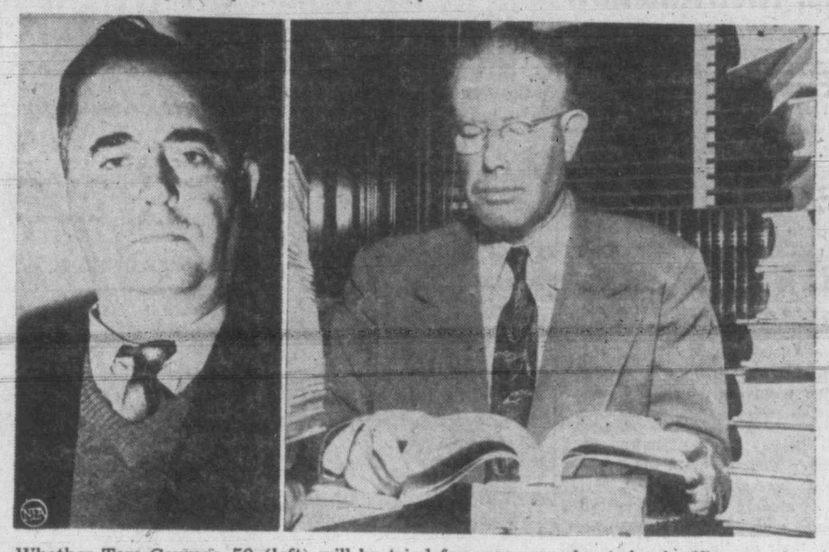
Double Jeopardy Case Stumps D.A.



Whether Tom Coumas, 59 (left) will be tried for same murder twice in 15 years depends on District Attorney Chester Watson's (right) findings on double jeopardy status in international law. Coumas fled California in 1932 after fatally shooting Mrs. Oliver Taylor, 55-year-old school teacher who rapped his son's knuckles with a ruler. An F.B.I. agent caught up with him in Greece, where Coumas was born, but the Greek government refused to extradite him despite his naturalization in Portland, Ore., in 1914. The Greeks tried, convicted and sentenced him to five and a half years. After the war he returned to his children's home at Salida, Calif., where police apprehended him. Watson claims Greece had no jurisdiction in the case, but Coumas claims he has already paid for crime.

New Western Set-up For C.N.R. Hinted By Vaughan On Coast For Ship Launching

VANCOUVER (CP)—Development of northern Canada will see the railways pushing their lines into the Northwest Territories, R. C. Vaughan of Montreal, president of the Canadian National Railways, said here Thursday.

"It is a matter of development," he said. "When there is sufficient potential traffic in Yellowknife and the rest of the north, there will be railways."

Mr. Vaughan, on an inspection trip, was accompanied by Transport Minister Chevrier and high C.N.R. officials.

He said "central reorganization" in the western set-up of the C.N.R. now was in progress. "We cannot make a full statement on it at this time," he added.

Recently the Canadian Pacific Railway established a Pacific division with a vice-president in charge.

Mr. Vaughan, accompanied by N. B. Walton, executive vice-president, and Bernard Allen, general superintendent, B.C. district, will attend the launching Monday at Victoria of the Canadian National's new $3,000,000 passenger ship, the Prince George.

Commenting on launching, the president said there was no current plans for further new construction for this coast. "Construction costs are too expensive right now," he said.

Robertson In Ottawa With Marshall Plan Requirements

OTTAWA (CP)—Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, arrived in Ottawa Thursday, bringing with him, it is understood, considerable detailed information about European requirements for the proposed Marshall Plan.

It is believed he has with him the complete report from the Paris conference of the 16 European nations intending to share in this aid-to-Europe program. Until now the full report had not been available here.

Mr. Robertson's return is primarily to recuperate in Canada from a breakdown in health, but before leaving London he was able to talk to members of the British delegation to the Paris conference regarding many questions Canada needs answered before she can form her policy regarding the Marshall Plan and new aid to Europe in general.

Now it will be possible for the economics officials in the External Affairs Department to make a complete appraisal of the situation and for the inter-departmental committee on external trade policy, which includes a group of senior government officials, to make recommendations to the government on the line of action which could be followed.

Skates For Movie

TORONTO (CP) — Ottawa's Barbara Ann Scott, world figure skating champion, minus make-up, performed flawlessly at Ravina Rink Thursday before a movie camera grinding out an interpretation of "Alice in Wonderland."

Making her film debut in movies other than newsreels, Barbara Ann will star in a film to be released by the National Film Board in its "Canada Carries On" series. It will feature outstanding athletes as well as the average Canadian at summer camps and open-air schools.

"Alice in Wonderland" has been cleared by the Canadian Olympic Committee, as the players do not receive remuneration, except traveling expenses.

Manpower Talks

LONDON (Reuter)—Chiefs of Navy, Army and R.A.F. Thursday attended a meeting of the cabinet when appointments affecting the defence services were under discussion.

Following customary practice, no official account of the meeting was issued. It is believed, however, that the problem of manpower for essential British industries, and its bearing on the size of the armed forces, was under consideration.

Call For Larger Tax Exemptions

OTTAWA (CP)—Action of the Quebec Roman Catholic Assembly in asking increased income tax exemptions startled officials of the finance department today and drew brief but non-committal comment from acting Finance Minister St. Laurent.

The assembly, which brought together the Roman Catholic archbishops and bishops of Quebec province, recommended that family heads be granted $3,000 exemption from income taxation and that single persons receive an exemption increase to $1,500. Exemptions now are $1,500 and $750, respectively.

Mr. St. Laurent confined his comment to this statement:

"The government continuously has under review the matter of exemptions so that income tax may be as fair as possible to all people under existing circumstances.

Party Machine Rule Rapped By Solon Low

TORONTO (CP) — National Social Credit leader Solon Low charged Thursday that "present party machine rule" was "government by treason."

"If the people demand lower taxes and they get still higher taxes, that's treason," Mr. Low said at a press conference in connection with the Social Credit League of Ontario's annual conference.

He said Canadians were not getting the results they wanted when their representative was sent to Parliament. If members of Parliament were not convinced of the principles on which they were elected, they should resign.

Archbishop Calls For Atomic Control

MIDDLESBROUGH, Durham, Eng. (AP)—Most Rev. Cyril Garbett, Archbishop of York, urged Thursday Christians throughout the world unite in demanding international control of atomic energy.

Warning that "there is no time to be lost," the Archbishop told the Middlesbrough ecclesiastical district:

"If one nation must have a monopoly on this fearful weapon I agree it is well that for a time this should be the United States. But not every nation is confident the United States will abstain from making use of it for power politics."

3.65 Inches Rain At Pachena Point

VANCOUVER (CP) — Heavy rainfall registering between two and three-and-a-half inches in the Vancouver area during the last 24 hours and accompanied by 39-mile-an-hour winds caused extensive damage as basements were flooded, signs and awnings were torn down, and transformers burned out, throwing sections of the city into darkness for a time.

Weather officials report that while 2.34 inches fell on Vancouver proper, the civic airport was deluged with 1.36 fall.

Meanwhile, more rain fell on the west coast of Vancouver Island, where 3.65 inches was recorded at Pachena Point.

Gandhi Devotes 78th Birthday To Prayer

NEW DELHI (AP) — Mohandas K. Gandhi Thursday devoted his 78th birthday to prayer, fasting and labors for cessation of communal strife which has been seething throughout this subcontinent since independence was attained with the help of his guidance.

Although still ill from influenza and coughing badly, Gandhi was out of bed at 3.30 a.m., when he conducted his usual prayer meeting. By 4.15 a.m. he was squatted on the floor, hard at work before a 14-inch-high desk.

COALITION STRENGTHENED

PARTISAN NEWS COMMENT SEEKING to convey the impression that there is a substantial element in the provincial Liberal Party which is growing restless under a Coalition administration should be taken with a very large grain of salt. No intelligent supporter of Mr. Hart and his ministerial colleagues during the last six years has the least patience with a handful of malcontents, regardless of the party to which they belong; and when a former Premier of the province says the Coalition is "not healthy" he is obviously talking through his hat. He speaks for none but himself.

What the disciples of sensation will probably recount in a minor key is the impressive fact that the unanimity of view in support of continuance of the Coalition principle was such as to enable the delegates to the meeting of the executive of the British Columbia Liberal Association to wind up their business in one day instead of two. Of especial significance, moreover, was the cordial support of the fusion voiced by two prominent Liberal members of the House of Commons—Mr. Tom Reid and Mr. James Sinclair—who until comparatively recently had been more or less lukewarm to the arrangement which has worked so successfully in the public interest. The great majority of the people of the province naturally were not depending upon outside influence to help them to make up their minds to popularize still further the movement sponsored by Mr. Hart and Mr. Maitland after the 1941 general election; but it can be taken for granted that they will appreciate in fullest measure the encouragement from the two able federal parliamentarians mentioned. Worthy of note, too, was the calm announcement from two rank-and-file delegates at yesterday's meeting that they each had traveled more than 500 miles mainly to make quite sure that nothing would be done to disturb the Coalition system. They obviously reflect the view of the great bulk of Liberal and Progressive Conservative thought. Consider these opinions:

Liberal Senator J. W. deB. Farris: "We must stand together, close our ranks, and make sure Socialists and Socialism never shall dominate in B.C."

Progressive Conservative Minister of Public Works Carson: "It would be ridiculous for the two parties to go their separate ways at this time; great problems of reconstruction are ahead which demand the united efforts of both."

Regardless of the fact that the new leader of the provincial Liberal Party will be named at the forthcoming convention, and not before, the crystal-gazers will toy with at least a dozen names and pontificate upon their actual or potential merits. This type of political fun and games, however, is usually more interesting than harmful—unless it contributes to the frustration and confusion of these times. What should be kept clear in mind, on the other hand, is the paramount necessity of eliminating every kind of sentiment when considering Mr. Hart's successor. And unless both parties to the Coalition make up their minds resolutely to place the public welfare far ahead of all personal and party considerations, paying no attention to the old-line "fixers," they will clear the field for the Socialists.

MAJOR CHALLENGE

RELUCTANT ACCEPTANCE BY THE Jewish Agency of the proposal to partition Palestine, coupled with repudiation of the plan by the Arabs, who today called a general strike in that troubled country to demonstrate their opposition, brought into clear focus the necessity for the establishment of some policing agency to control wayward factions and to retain some semblance of order in the Holy Land.

Reporting from Lake Success today, competent Canadian Press staff writer Clyde Blackburn summed up the issue as follows:

"The outcome most generally expected here is that some solution will be proposed which will be more agreeable to one side than the other and that the United Nations will have to take responsibility for enforcing it with some sort of international policing arrangement. That presumably would mean contributions of armed forces by member nations for that specific purpose."

At this date the Security Council still lacks the permanent force required to give effect to its decisions where a show of physical strength is required. Had that standing "police department" been brought into existence, it would have provided the logical means for application to the situation. As it is, Britain has clearly stated her decision against enforcement by herself of any arrangement which does not meet the approval of both parties in Palestine. The issue is in the lap of the United Nations and that body must act or suffer a blow to its prestige from which it might never recover. No single country should be forced to accept responsibility for the maintenance of a semblance of order while the difficult task of partition is being executed or some other settlement reached.

Yet the picture as now painted is not without its optimistic elements. The United Nations were able to work in concert during the war, when specific objectives had to be attained. On the vital issue of upholding law in Palestine a degree of unanimity similar to that born of war could be achieved. And on the material field of the Holy Land some practical start may be made toward the creation of a global police force. Here is an instance in which the United Nations must not fail. Inability to act in unity on this occasion could very easily prove fatal.

MARKET INSURANCE

THE CLAUSE IN THE WHEAT AGREEment between Britain and Canada which specifies that the discrepancy between the contract price and world prices during the first two years shall be kept in mind when arriving at agreed prices for the third and fourth years is now showing its effect. A selling price of $2 has been proposed by Britain and accepted by the Canadian government to cover the 1948-49 crop year; and this represents an increase of 45 cents over the existing price. The agreement was drafted to cover the four years ending July 31, 1950, during which time 600,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat would be shipped to the United Kingdom. For the first two years the price was set at $1.55 per bushel. For the third year it will be $2. The fourth year price will be negotiated at a later date, but under contract provisions it must not be set at less than $1.

Domestic criticism of the wheat agreement has centred around the point of price. While wheat is currently trading in world markets at $2.80 to $3.10 a bushel, it is argued that it is an imposition on Canadian farmers to force them to sell, through a government agency, at a price considerably below this. The paramount thought in drawing up the contract, however, was that here was an opportunity to safeguard both buyer and seller—to insure costs and returns in an unstable postwar period. Three-dollar wheat is not a common occurrence. It would be difficult to predict with any certainty how long it will last. Canadian Press reports indicate that western farmers are fully cognizant of the situation and have voiced general satisfaction with the price announced this week for the third contract year. They have been guaranteed a large measure of stability—by no means a small consideration in the farming industry.

HIRSUTE HARVEST

THERE ARE NO RECOGNIZED LIMITS to the imaginative or material sources from which the artist may obtain inspiration. No human experience, no vision of this world or the next, however great or insignificant, is held to be outside the bounds of legitimate artistic observation for the purpose of embodiment in a work of art. It therefore need occasion little surprise that a leading Canadian hairdresser, in Winnipeg to arrange for a convention of his profession, has announced that the wheat of Canada's prairies will be used as the basis of a new style in coiffure.

Said Charles Tugwell, of Toronto, "This autumn we are evolving a style for evening which sweeps the hair upward. Western wheat inspires a lavish treatment that is quite original." There will be little quarrel from the layman as to the truth of the latter sentiment. If a gathering of ladies in the coming winter evenings takes on the appearance, above the shoulders, of a field of stooked grain, we need feel no surprise. We have been duly warned. But perhaps the new wheat-sheaf hair-do may not have the Hottentot aspect which is suggested in our first alarmed thoughts. It may be that the rolling waves of the standing grain field will be used as the source of inspiration for the new coiffure. Regardless of the actual form of the season's creation, however, it may be taken for granted that the Western farmer, his hair already greyed to the worries of his vocation, will be more interested in an up-sweep of wheat prices than in a corresponding development in milady's tresses.

MUCH FOR LITTLE

SURPRISE, NO LESS THAN GRATIFIcation, will have been registered by many Victorians recently as a result of parks administrator W. H. Warren's announcement that the hanging flower baskets which decorate downtown streets cost only 24 cents apiece. The sum, be it noted, covers the operation of preparing them and setting them in position. It would be stretching the analogy to suggest that they prove that the best things are free. There was some expense attached to the project, but its returns in beautification are out of all proportion to the small expenditure made.

As an attraction that has caught the attention of tourists they have been of inestimable value in publicity. And to the citizens, whose daily walks through the city streets have been cheered by their bloom, they have been a source of delight. On behalf of Victorians and all others who have an eye for beauty, we extend sincere thanks to the official, and staff members, who succeeded in making such a brave showing for so little money. May they carry their inspiration to other developments of a similar nature for community benefit.

Austria; Then And Now

By WICKHAM STEED

ON SEPTEMBER 15 the five peace treaties concluded with ex-enemy countries in Europe—Italy, Bulgaria, Finland and Hungary—were ratified in Paris and Moscow. Simultaneously the United Kingdom Government decided to follow the example of France and the United States in terminating the "state of war" with Austria and forthwith to bring Anglo-Austrian relations "into conformity with the amity" which existed before the incorporation of Austria in the German Reich by Hitler in 1938. Though no Austrian peace treaty has yet been concluded, this United Kingdom decision puts Austria again "on the map" of diplomatic recognition and bestows regular status upon the Austrian Minister in London.

TO ONE WHO LIVED more than ten years in Vienna before the summer of 1913, the welfare of the Austrian people is a matter of abiding interest. They are a kindly people with strong elements of Slav blood in their Southern German stock. For several centuries, when German Imperial dignity was hereditary in their reigning Hapsburg Dynasty, they were entitled to consider themselves the hub of Europe. Vienna, their capital stood as the chief stronghold of Christian and European civilization against the advancing might of the Islamic Ottoman Sultans. By 1683 the Turkish armies, having overrun Hungary, were battering at the gates of Vienna and laying determined siege to the old Imperial City. When the gallant—and ill-requited—intervention of John Sobieski, the King of Poland, and his horsemen compelled the Turks to raise the siege and retreat eastward, all Christendom heaved a sigh of relief.

FROM THAT GREAT EVENT many consequences, some minor, some major, were to flow. Among the minor consequences was the introduction to Europe of coffee from the immense store found among the Turkish spoils. And to this day exotic flowers grow in Vienna, "Park of the Turkish Trenches", from seeds brought in the fodder of the Turkish cavalry.

The major consequences were the heightened prestige of Austria and the Hapsburgs as defenders of Europe against Islamic conquest; and a fatal belief that they could rightfully claim sway over the Balkans and South Eastern Europe when the Turks should have been driven back to Constantinople or beyond.

SO PERSISTENT was this belief that even in 1881 the Archduke Rudolf, the tragic son and heir of the Emperor Francis Joseph, said to his wife, Stephanie, during their honeymoon trip to Constantinople: "Here thou shalt be Empress." The Archduchess Stephanie was a Belgian Princess; and Rudolf's remark was heard by the Belgian Minister to Turkey who told me of it.

Behind it lay a romantic dream of conquest which ignored a fundamental truth, tersely phrased by a French historian who wrote that as soon as Turkish rule in Southeastern Europe should be broken by the emancipation of the Balkan peoples, Austria would be confronted with a question of life or death. He meant that the Hapsburg dynasty ruling over ten or twelve different races had for centuries justified its existence by defending Europe against the Turks; and that if the Turkish danger were finally removed by the liberation of the Balkans, the Hapsburg peoples would demand freedom for themselves.

DURING MY TIME in Vienna this truth was already plain. Some clear-sighted Austrians sought to act upon it. Among them was Professor Masaryk who was destined to become the creator of the Czechoslovak Republic after Austria had gone to pieces in 1918. But it was never plain to the Hapsburgs or their military advisers. They failed to see that their only safe course would be to put themselves at the head of a United States of Central and Southeastern Europe by transforming their realms into a federation of free peoples, a kind of Imperial Switzerland on the Danube. When in the second Balkan war of 1913 and by their attack on Serbia in July 1914 the Hapsburgs pursued their ancient dream, their fate was sealed. They let loose the first World War, in which they were overwhelmed.

As a result of that war the Austrian Empire was reduced to a small country bereft of all non-German Hapsburg provinces. For a time it seemed doubtful whether its 8,000,00 inhabitants with their huge capital, Vienna, could survive in independence. Many Austrians wished to join Germany. Others with a stronger faith were persuaded they could hold their own. These proved to be right; and Austria was on the high road to a prosperous and independent life when Nazi propaganda followed by the Hitlerite annexation in March, 1938, incorporated the country in Germany.

NOW AFTER MANY VICISSITUDES and much suffering Austria has begun again to emerge with an individuality of her own. Though still under Allied occupation and without a formal peace treaty she is recognized by the United States, France and Britain as entitled to live her own life. Russian recognition is still lacking. Until it has been given and foreign troops are withdrawn Austria's position must remain precarious. Yet her people might still have a beneficent part to play as a centre of sane, enlightened and progressive Germanism, and as bearers of a high tradition in art, music and culture.

'Who Me?'

The Cold War And The U.N.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

IN this article we may consider the question of how the United States is to relate her role in the United Nations to her policy in the conflict with Russia. Mr. X does not deal with this question. But the State Department in its attempt to operate under the Truman Doctrine has shown where that doctrine would take America. It would take her to the destruction of the U.N.

The charter and the organization of the United Nations are designed to maintain peace after a settlement of the Second World War has been arrived at. Until there is a settlement of that war, the United Nations does not come of age: It is growing up, it is at school, it is learning and practising, it is testing its procedure, gaining experience. During this period, which will not come to an end until the great powers have agreed on peace treaties, the United Nations cannot deal with disputes that involve the balance of power in the world. The balance of power has to be redressed and settled in the peace treaties by the great powers themselves, principally, as I have tried to show, by the withdrawal of their armies from the continent of Europe.

Until such a settlement is reached, the United Nations has to be protected by its supporters from the strains, the burdens, the discredit of having to deal with issues that it is not designed to deal with.

NOT AN ARENA

The true friends of the United Nations will, therefore, be opposed to entangling the world organization in the Soviet-American conflict. No good and nothing but harm can come of using the Security Council and the Assembly as an arena of the great dispute, or of acting as if the United States did not realize the inherent limitations of the charter and thought that somehow she could by main force and awkwardness use the United Nations organization to overawe and compel the Russians. All that can come of that is to discredit the United Nations on issues that it cannot settle and thus to foreclose the future of the U.N., which can begin only if and when these issues have been settled.

Judging by the speeches in the Greek affair of the British and the American delegates, Sir Alexander Cadogan and Mr. Herschel Johnson appear to be acting on instructions which treat the U.N. as expendable in the conflict with Russia. It is a great pity. Nothing is being accomplished to win the conflict, to assuage it, or to settle it. But the U.N., which should be preserved as the last best hope of mankind that the conflict can be settled and a peace achieved, is being chewed up. The seed corn is being devoured.

Why? Because the policy of containment, as Mr. X has exposed it to the world, does not have as its objective a settlement of the conflict with Russia. It is therefore implicit in the policy that the U.N. has no future as a universal society, and that either the U.N. will be cast aside like the League of Nations, or it will be transformed into an anti-Soviet coalition. In either event the U.N. will have been destroyed.

New Controls On British Labor

U.K. Information Office

THE OPERATION OF the new labor controls as explained on Sept. 18 by the United Kingdom Minister of Labor will be along the following lines. A Control of Engagement Order, made under the Supplies and Services (Extended Purposes) Act passed by Parliament just before the recess, will come into force on Oct. 6.

The object of the order is to enable men and women seeking employment to be diverted to jobs on essential work. This is effected by requiring employers to obtain labor and workers to obtain employment through the local office of the Ministry of Labor or an approved employment agency. Workers will be given as wide a choice as possible of available jobs on essential work and directions will be issued only if they insist on taking unessential work or refuse to take any work.

WIDE FIELD

The order will apply to all men aged 18 to 50 and women aged 18 to 40, except women with children of their own under 15 living with them and members of the forces during resettlement leave. Certain employment can be taken freely, in particular part-time employment for not more than 30 hours weekly and employment in a managerial, professional, administrative or executive capacity.

Engagements in the Merchant Navy and dock work are not subject to the order as recruiting in them is governed by special arrangements.

Farm workers can move freely between jobs in agriculture but cannot be freely engaged for employment outside it. Agriculture includes forestry and horticulture but not employment in sports ground, parks or private gardens. Similarly miners can move freely between jobs in coal mining but cannot be engaged outside except through official channels. All outside these two industries may be freely engaged for agriculture or coal mining.

The Moving Finger Writes . . . .

REPLIES TO MR. MONEY

The President and Secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, together with the chairmen of the Legislative Committee, who are currently attending the 62nd convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in Hamilton, Ont., wish to correct some statements contained in a letter to the editor signed by W. Money in the issue of the Victoria Times dated Tuesday, Sept. 23.

It is regrettable that Mr. Money did not substantiate his facts before writing his letter to you; but we wish to point out what actually happened in regard to this controversy.

No resolution passed by the Vancouver, New Westminster and District Trades and Labor Council A. F. of L. regarding Bill 39 has been received by the Victoria Council for our endorsement. The information referred to by Mr. Money was merely contained in the minutes of the Vancouver Council that are reported on at all our meetings by the chairman of the Legislative Committee.

Whenever the chairman concludes his report it is always accepted, whether it contains any reference to provincial legislation or not.

No specific mention of the Vancouver group's resolution was ever forwarded to our affiliated unions; instead it was merely reported in the minutes forwarded to every delegate following our meeting, and certainly none of our affiliates was asked to comment on the Vancouver resolution.

We would like to point out, too, that the Victoria Council has already decided on a course of action in connection with the undesirable features of Bill 39. It is our intention to ask all A. F. of L. unions in British Columbia to attend a meeting called for the specific purpose of discussing constructive amendments to the act, following which proper representations will be made to the provincial government in the same manner that has been our established custom for many years.

By taking this action we feel that our requests will receive the full support of all our thinking citizens who must realize that we are as anxious as anyone to avoid any form of industrial strife in Victoria and the surrounding districts.

Hoping this will clear up the misleading inferences created by Mr. Money's letter, we are,

A. P. RAYMENT, President,
GEO. A. WILKINSON, Sec'y,
C. A. PECK, Chairman,
Legislative Committee.
Hamilton, Ont.

Editor's Note: Mr. Money complained about an editorial in which we suggested, among other things, that if changes were required in the act known originally as Bill No. 39, the proper method would be to explain the trouble so that the public would have an opportunity to understand it and assess its merits—not call a special session of the Legislature for the purpose. The foregoing letter, moreover, deals with the main aspect of the matter and takes Mr. Money to task in respect of inter-union procedure.

From Dublin comes news that Eire finally has decided to remove the bitterly disliked statue of Queen Victoria which through many decades of hostile relationship between southern Ireland and England has stood in front of Leinster House—now the Dail, or parliament, of an independent Eire.

The announced reason for the removal is that the room it occupies is needed for parking space—poor Victoria! But everybody knows there are few reminders of Britain that stir the fightin' Irishman to greater wrath than sight of the queen who ruled in days which southern Ireland likes to forget.

The famous queen-empress sits in grand state on a huge pedestal. The statue is so big that it almost blocks a view of the building as one stands in front of it. When I was in Dublin I tried to take a snapshot of the parliament house and couldn't find any place to avoid Victoria. However, I snapped a picture, and had it taken away from me by a minor government employee who said:

"We can't have a picture of the parliament building taken with the queen in front of it."

Well, a government official sent my film back voluntarily with an apology which was quite unnecessary, since I understood the significance of the seizure. To the small-time employee the statue was an emblem of the British rule which he had come to hate.

However, despite this barrier between Eire and England—a barrier which was responsible in no small degree for Eire's much-criticized neutrality in the Second World War—recent developments have set observers to speculating whether perhaps the two old enemies might be on the way to bury the hatchet.

For example, the other day when Eire's name came up for membership in the United Nations, State Minister Hector McNeil of Britain went out of his way to make a striking defence of Eire, being opposed by Russia for the second time.

Maybe we are seeing the dawn of a new era between Eire and Britain.

Three United States Congressmen who were present at Hamburg when the "Exodus" Jews were landed in Germany, expressed themselves as astonished that the real facts of the disembarkation were not known in the United States. Only five Jews, slightly injured, were taken to the Hamburg Displaced Persons Hospital, the Congressmen said after they had made a personal investigation.

Conservative newspapers in the east are somewhat irritated by the fact that Brigadier Milton Gregg V.C., the new Minister of Fisheries and the government's candidate in York-Sunbury at one time had Conservative affiliations. Such words as "turncoat" are appearing in print. Party loyalty being so highly prized by Conservatives, and dereliction from it being in their view so heinous a crime, it would be interesting to have their comment on the record of Mr. Bracken—their leader.

OLD FILMS FOR NEW

The Times of London

At the moment when the prospect of filling up the programs in the cinemas with old films darkens life for many, a society which ministers to the needs of connoisseurs of the movies announces that it has obtained for its subscribers a batch of the most completely out-of-date entertainments, the most obsolete epics, sagas, and smash-hits, that it would be possible to find. Nor is this a wild experiment such as only a society which looks for no profit could afford to make; even before the war there were theatres that made a living out of the people who seemed to have adapted the old rule of an austere reader, and, when a new film was recommended to them, went obstinately to an old one. By the lavish standards of the film industry these were, no doubt, a negligible few, but it is always possible for eccentric habits to spread. Perhaps the public will now transfer its affections to Valentino and Gish as readily as when, deprived of the latest thriller, it not long ago found comfort in Dickens. If this should happen will not the average audience become more exacting in its taste?

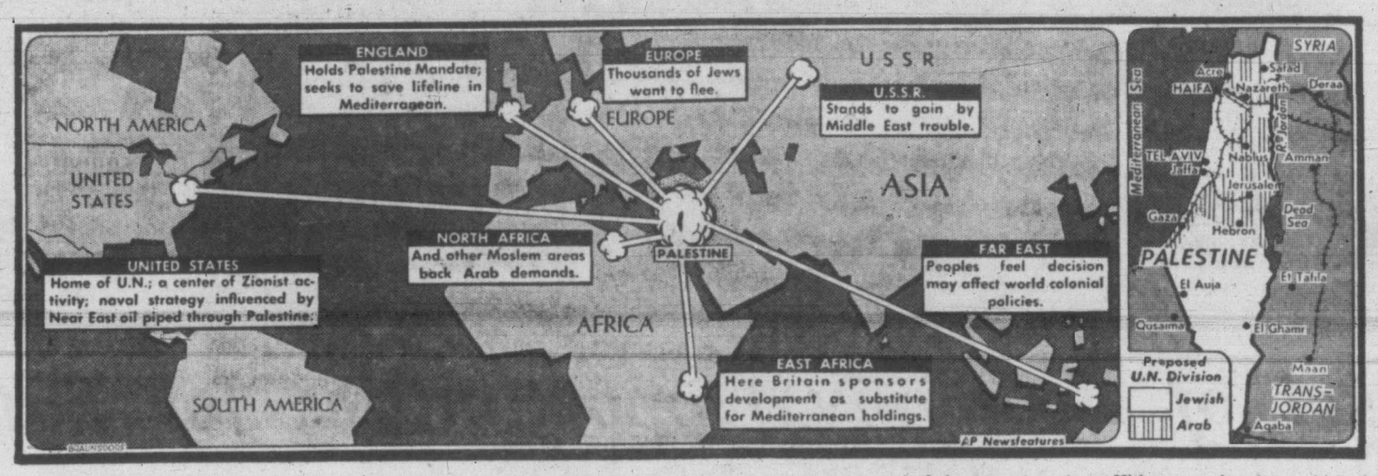
BEST FOR WALLS & CEILINGS

BECAUSE MONASEAL IS A REAL OIL PAINT

FAR-REACHING IMPACT OF THE PALESTINE PROBLEM



By SHERRY BOWEN

The rest of the world feels the impact when Palestine problems produce explosive developments.

Britain, the United States, Europe, Russia, the Far East and the entire Moslem world watch anxiously while various agencies attempt to resolve the differences between Jew and Arab and to stabilize the affairs of the unhappy country.

Being a centre of attention for world powers is nothing new for Palestine. Since remote antiquity, the great nations have fought across this international crossroads where conquest and counter-conquest have written a history in blood and suffering.

It is no accident that holy places of three great religions found there—Christian, Moslem and Jewish. The secular powers representing differing religious views frequently have found the key to the victories that meant vast expansion for their states.

Today the conflict continues. The Jews, still facing persecution in many areas look upon Palestine as the promised land, the seat of their ancient secular power and the inspiration for their religion.

The United States, with almost 5,000,000 Jews in its population is an important centre for promotion of Jewish aspirations in Palestine, a movement strengthened by the fact that many non-Jewish Americans have a lively sympathy for a persecuted people.

Also, American commercial interests are deeply involved in Near East oil, much of which is piped through Palestine. And the U.S. navy is interested in those oil supplies. Naval strategists argue that availability of oil supplies in the Mediterranean might make a big difference in the exercise of the world power which the United States has assumed. Also some such strategists are anxious about reports of dwindling U.S. oil reserves.

But the Arab inhabitants of Palestine, many of whom bitterly oppose Jewish aims, are not without their supporters throughout the world. Many Moslems feel that any action against the interests of the Palestine Arabs is aggression against all Moslems, everywhere. All across North Africa, in India, in Indonesia, Malaya, Burma and elsewhere, pressure is exercised in behalf of the Arabs.

The Moslem attitude is re-enforced, especially in the Far East, but the feeling that the current clash of the powers in Palestine may, in the end, be an important factor in the development of world colonial policies.

Here Britain's attitude is important. As the holder of the mandate for Palestine she is caught in the crossfire. Both Arabs and their supporters and Jews and their supporters turn to London with their demands and assail the British when those demands are not met.

But Palestine is, for Britain, more than the seat of a dispute between Arab and Jew. It is an important link in the Empire lifeline through the Mediterranean. Anticipating her eventual removal from Palestine, she has turned to East Africa where she is attempting the development of vast agricultural and mineral resources in conjunction with military bases. One big agricultural project already has been started and plans for other programs have been announced.

Such world headaches are emphasized by ferment in Europe and by the attitude of Russia. Europe felt the full impact of the Hitler agression from which the Jews suffered most. Thousands of Jews, the remnants of large European populations, their lives disrupted, their homes often in ruins, and still facing persecution in the aftermath of the Hitler policies, seek to enter Palestine. In any case, they want to get out of Europe and their presence there with their frustrated hopes of immigration remains a disrupting influence.

Russia, the centre of a world-Communist movement, has both Jews and Moslems in her population. But the Russian attention is centred on attempts to spread Communistic principles in other lands. Many observers have noted that Communism feeds on trouble, almost any kind of trouble, in non-Communist lands.

Boxer Manages Port Alberni Gym

PORT ALBERNI — Jack Sweeney, a boxer who once entered the ring with Primo Carnera, is manager of R.C.E.M.E. gym here and is offering keep-fit classes to youth and businessmen of the district.

It was in Seattle in 1934 that Mr. Sweeney, who weighs only about 150, fought several exhibition rounds with the giant Carnera.

"No one was hurt but the customers," says Mr. Sweeney.

Born in Cumberland and a veteran of 250 fights, he has been a B.C. amateur champion and a titleholder in the 147-lb. class in California.

His keep-fit classes feature body-building, judo, boxing, wrestling, tumbling and other gymnastics. Sweeney is presently training Sammy May, a young 150-lb. Port Alberni boxer whom he thinks has prospects for a berth on the Canadian Olympic boxing team.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE
SMOOTH TRIP FROM SHORE TO SHIP
In the newsreels, you've probably seen a huge hoist pick up a railroad locomotive, swing it over a ship and gently place it on the deck. It's a smooth operation. This careful control — sure stopping power — depends on such materials as Johns-Manville Asbestos Brake Linings and Clutch Facings. These J-M Friction Materials help control the tremendous power of hoists, bulldozers, steam shovels, cranes and winches. Because asbestos brake linings and clutch facings withstand the intense heat of friction, it is possible to operate these huge machines almost as smoothly as you drive your car.
And, equally important, J-M Friction Materials are tops for long life and durability under practically every service condition. For complete details, write Johns-Manville, 1206 Homer St., Vancouver. Asbestos Building Materials Ltd., 707 Johnson St. G 7314.

S.P.C.A. Head Ordered To Pay $1,000 Damages

In a judgment handed down Thursday, Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane assessed damages against James Barr, president of the S.P.C.A., and two inspectors, arising out of a libel action won by Mrs. H. Mellish, proprietor of commercial dog kennels on West Saanich Road.

Damages were awarded against the three S.P.C.A. men for a report published with regard to the alleged conditions of the dog kennels. The report was subsequently forwarded to the Saanich Council with a request that the kennel license issued to Mrs. Mellish be canceled.

The Supreme Court judge awarded a sum of $1,500 to the plantiff. A sum of $500 of this total was to be borne by Mr. Barr and two of the society's inspectors, John L. Weeks and Donald Hamer, who were all held jointly responsible for the report which was subsequently sent to the Saanich Council by Mr. Barr.

"As the report, in my opinion, based on the evidence, was false and was given to Barr with the idea that he should use it and act on it by publishing it to the society," His Lordship said, "I think damages should be awarded against all three on this head and would fix damages at $500.

He assessed $1,000 against Mr. Barr alone.

The judge said he did not think, on the evidence, that Weeks and Hamer were shown to have any knowledge of any intention to use the report beyond its publication to the society.

'Black Narcissus' Approved By Censors

VANCOUVER (CP) — The British technicolor film "Black Narcissus" has been approoved for release in British Columbia theatres. Approval was announced by the B.C. Film Censorship Board following an appeal against an earlier ban.

The picture, shot against the background of the Himalayas, portrays the experiences of a small group of Anglican nuns at a mountain mission.

The picture was banned on unstated grounds by film censor J. B. Hughes of Vancouver last week. Harry C. Page of the J. Arthur Rank organization filed the appeal.

PHIDIAS SUFFERED FOR PLACING PICTURE ON ATHENA'S SHIELD

An old record tells us that a certain man made his own picture and suffered prison as a result, with death following soon afterward.

The man was a sculptor named Phidias, and I told some things about him a few weeks ago. He lived in ancient Greece, and ranks as one of the great sculptors of history.

Phidias took a keen interest in the gods and goddesses of Greece, and made statues of several of them. One of his huge statues was of Zeus, the king of the gods. This statue was set up at Olympia, and it was one of the Seven Wonders of the World.

The sculptor took even more interest in a goddess than in Zeus. The goddess was Athena, and the people of Athens spoke of her as the special guardian of their city.

The Greeks declared that Athena had given the plow to their ancestors. Another myth said that she struck her spear into the ground and made an olive tree grow at the spot. This was supposed to have been the first olive tree.

More and more stories were invented about the goddess. Goldsmiths stated that she had taught their craft to Greece and shoemakers declared that she had given the people the knowledge of shoemaking.

Three statues of Athena by Phidias were placed on the hill at Athena known as the Acropolis. Two of these were made of bronze, and the third was of ivory and gold.

The ivory and gold statue brought trouble to the sculptor. His enemies accused him of stealing some of the gold which had been set aside for the statue. Phidias was able to take off the golden drapery from the statue, so it could be weighed. In this way he offered proof that he was innocent of the charge of stealing gold.

Another charge was made against him, namely, that he had put his own picture on the shield of Athena, and had "insulted" her by doing so. Phidias really had put his picture on the shield and was put in prison. The record of which I have spoken says that he died soon after entering the prison.

Vows Exchanged In Morning Rites

Thursday morning at 9.30 marriage vows were repeated by Miss Elizabeth Joan Banner, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Banner, 1028 Caledonia Avenue, and James Stephen White, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, 905 Esquimalt Road, before Father Donald Lehane, at St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Chrysanthemums and Michaelmas daisies in autumn hues decorated the church. Miss Margaret McKay presided at the organ, and Mrs. B. Malenfant was the soloist.

Whispering white taffeta was designed with fitted bodice and bustle-backed skirt, to gown the petite bride. Her misty bridal veil cascaded over the slight train of her gown, and she carried red roses showered with swainsonia. A note of importance in her costume was a diamond pendant, worn by her mother on her wedding day. Mr. Banner gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's three sisters in bouffant-skirted gowns of rustling taffeta were her attendants. Miss Ann Sylvia Banner, as maid of honor, wore pale blue, with bandeau of roses in her hair. Miss Dorothy Banner, bridesmaid, chose shell pink. Both carried arm bouquets of carnations. Little Mary Banner, frocked in turquoise, was flower maid. She carried a Colonial bouquet.

Stanley Banner, brother of the bride, attended the groom. Ushers were Jack Pickford and Edward McDonald.

A wedding breakfast was held following the ceremony at Strathcona Hotel. Toast to the bride was given by Father L. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. White are honeymooning on the mainland and will return to the city to make their home on Inverness Street. The bride traveled in a turquoise blue suit, frost white off-the-face hat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of Talisman roses.

Langford — The first general meeting and social, sponsored by the Langford P.-T.A., for parents of new children in the school, will be held Wednesday in the school auditorium at 7.45.

Returns From England To Visit With Parents

Mrs. A. C. E. Lloyd with her father, General E. C. Ashton.

After two years of waiting and planning, Mrs. A. C. E. Lloyd has arrived in Victoria to visit her parents, General and Mrs. E. C. Ashton, 1520 Despard Avenue.

Mrs. Lloyd arrived aboard the Aquitania from Shropshire, England, where she has made her home during the past 10 years. General and Mrs. Ashton traveled to Montreal to accompany their daughter across Canada.

"Conditions are very grim in England at present," states Mrs. Lloyd, "and the parcels from Canada are a Godsend. Of course we aren't starving over there, we get enough to eat, but it takes very good management to add variety to meals."

No stranger to the city, Mrs. Lloyd is renewing acquaintances with close friends here. She spent 20 months here with her parents, when General Ashton was district officer commanding Work Point Barracks.

Mrs. Lloyd will return to England in November.

'Juggling Mail' Old Story To Postmistresses Of B.C.

"We work just as hard as the postmasters," said Mrs. E. E. Siddall, speaking for a group of bright-eyed, cheerful women, postmistresses and post offices assistants, attending the B.C. branch of the Canadian Postmasters' Association meeting in session at the Empress Hotel today.

Mrs. Siddall, one of three postmistresses attending the convention, comes from Yarrow in the Chilliwack valley. She has been in charge of the post office in the flourishing little community almost since its beginning.

"Twenty years and six months," she tells you proudly, "since I started in post office work."

Then she adds quickly, "Don't ask me how I started for I really hardly know. It just happened. I seemed to be the only one available at the moment, so I got the position.

"I've enjoyed every minute of it," this active, laughing-eyed woman with smartly coifed grey hair tells you, "and believe me if I had the time I could tell you some good stories."

Just "next door" to Mrs. Siddall, at the Sardis post office is Mrs. Grace Thornton, age 76, and the oldest postmistress at the convention.

Mrs. Thornton worked with her husband at Sardis post office from 1919 and has been postmistress for the past 20 years. In her district there are three mail routes with over 1,000 patrons and three sub post offices.

A daughter, Mrs. Grace Roberts, who is also here for the convention, is Mrs. Thornton's assistant.

RISES EARLY

"But mother is always on the job ahead of me." Mrs. Roberts sys. "She's up t 7 in the morning and out to send off the mail on the early train."

From Northfield, V.I., comes Mrs. Gertrude Cottle, the third postmistress attending the convention. She has been doing post office work for 41 years. "I was general helper when my mother was in charge of the Northfield Post Office," she tells you with a hearty laugh, "and I certainly learned everything there was to know about the work then."

Mrs. Cottle has been postmistress for 17 years. Her assistant, Mrs. Isabel Willgress, has been at the Northfield office for 35 years.

"We've seen Northfield in its heydey," they tell you in one breath, "when the mines were working and when we had plenty of work . . . and we're still hoping to see it that way again some day."

Many of the postmasters' wives could also qualify for post office work for they act unofficially as assistants at many of the branches.

WORK LIKE MEN

"We do the work just as well as the men," Mrs. Nanette New of Galiano Island says, "we can take charge when our husbands are away, juggle mail, meet trains and boats . . . and at the same time mend fences, milk cows and keep house."

Mrs. New speaks from experience for during the war years while her husband was away in the services, she took complete charge of the Galiano post office.

At Yale, Mrs. C. E. Barry assists her husband.

"We do everything at the Yale post office," she tells you, "we had the Japanese registrations during the war and we also have all the remittances to make for the toll gate at the Alexandria Bridge. We're our own bankers, too, as there is no bank at Yale."

A young bride, Mrs. Don Munro, is the assistant at White Rock. She met her husband when he was overseas during the war and she was a member of the A.T.S. Ten months ago she flew to British Columbia from Glasgow, Scotland, to be married. At Ladner, Mrs. Chrissie L. Taylor has been assistant to her husband in the post office throughout the war years.

"And I like it so well I'm going to continue helping in the post office as long as I can," she says laughingly, "much easier than housework."

Mrs. Brophy, oldest postmistress in the province, is not at the convention this year. Over 80 years of age, she has been postmistress at Lytton for 40 years and in that time has missed very few conventions.

"Doesn't quite seem the same without her," the others chorus.

Convention members enjoyed a cocktail party in the lower lounge at the Empress Hotel Thursday evening followed by a banquet in the Crystal ballroom.

Auxiliary Gives $250 To Fund

To show their appreciation to the British people for their hospitality to the men of the Canadian Scottish Regiment while they were in Britain, the W.A. to the regiment has decided to contribute $250.00 to the Mayor's Fund for Parcels for Britain.

At the meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Fish, 1042 Clare Street, plans for the completion, before the end of the year, of the four solariums at the Veterans' Hospital were discussed, and members decided to present a silver cup and colors to the Canadian Scottish Cadets.

Mrs. S. J. MacDonald, president, was in the chair, and Mrs. Rupert Guthrie, who has been on an extended visit to South America, Scotland and England, was welcomed back. Mrs. Guthrie made a plea for support to the Overseas League, which has recently been organized in Victoria.

It was announced that the auxiliary will meet once every week until it disbands at the first of the year, and the suggestion was brought forward that efforts should then be made by the members to assist the United Nations branch here.

Delegate Named — At a meeting of the W.A. to Lady Minto Gulf Islands Hospital, held in the board room at Ganges Harbor, Mrs. G. Lowe was elected delegate to the hospital convention to be held in Victoria, Oct. 27. Arrangements were made to hold the annual dance on Oct. 24 in the Mahon Hall. Treasurer's report showed a balance of $235, and it was decided to purchase new saucepans for the hospital kitchen. Mrs. J. Dewar was in the chair and Mrs. V. Harroway was tea hostess.

Auxiliary Plans Membership Tea

Final plans were made for the annual membership tea at a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Y.M.C.A., held in the lounge of the "Y" Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. M. Walker presided.

Date of the tea is set for Oct. 16, and guests will be received in the main lounge of the Y.M.C.A. Mrs. W. C. Wells is general convener.

Next meeting of the auxiliary will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Nov. 6.

Quiet Ceremony At First United

Marriage vows exchanged quietly Thursday at 2, in the vestry of First United Church by Rita Mary Carveth, daughter of Mrs. A. W. Carveth and the late Mr. Carveth, 444 Linden Avenue, and Frederick Gerald Purser, 931 Inverness Street. Dr. H. A. McLeod performed the ceremony.

A smart turquoise angora suit, brown model hat with turquoise trim, brown accessories and fragrant corsage bouquet, was worn by the bride for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Purser left for their wedding trip up-island, Mrs. Purser donning a light natural coat over her wedding ensemble.

Y.P. Societies

Christ Church Cathedral—The weekly meeting of Christ Church Cathedral A.Y.P.A. was held with president Audrey Gray in the chair. Plans were made for participation in the A.Y.P.A. Provincial Conference to be held in the Memorial Hall, Thanksgiving week-end. New members welcomed were Frances and Anne Heath, Joyce Ross, Joyce Phillips and Joan Dawkins.

St. Mary's — A business meeting of St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. was held Wednesday when plans for the Provincial Conference were discussed. New members welcomed were Beryl Harrison, Ruth Gardener, Sheila Smith, Frances Leeming and Cam and Jean York. The meeting closed with a sing-song.

All Victoria Interested In Tag Day Saturday

A large corps of eager taggers will be on Victoria's downtown streets early Saturday morning so that no opportunity will be missed to make the tag day for the Mayor's Fund for Christmas Food for Britain a mammoth success. Pictured above are from left to right, Mrs. H. E. Wilson a member of the committee in charge, handing out collector's boxes and tags to Mrs. F. Robe, Mrs. M. M. Davies, Shirley Fulton and Joan Walsh. Mrs. Robe has relatives in Bristol, England; Mrs. Davies is a war bride from Bexhill, Sussex, England; Shirley and Joan are Victoria schoolgirls. They attend Cloverdale School and Victoria High School respectively. Housewives, business women, young matrons, members of the college set and older women are all numbered among tomorrow's taggers. Added interest has been expressed in the day's collection, through the fact that food parcels sent from it, will be named the city's wedding gift to the Princess Elizabeth.

Supplies Of Food And Money Received At Orphanage Party

Boxes of delicious fresh fruits and vegetables, tables laden with home-made preserves and canned goods, and large sacks of flour were only a few of the wide variety of food articles which filled one room of the B.C. Protestant Orphanage Thursday afternoon, on the occasion of the annual Pound Party.

Mrs. F. A. Dillabough, treasurer of the Women's Board, reports that as well as quantities of foodstuffs, nearly $180 was received.

The Pound Party, an annual event since the organization was founded, is one way in which funds are raised to support the Orphanage, which relies entirely on gifts from the public for its upkeep.

Use to which these funds are put was seen when guests inspected the neat dormitories, with cheerful chintz curtains, dolls on each of the beds in the little girls' room, and toy animals for the little boys. Hobby horse and swings in the playroom, books for the older children.

All the furniture in the building, as well as supplies, are the gifts of the public.

Highlight of the afternoon program was a chorus of children who sang selections, with directions and gentle prompting from kindly Mrs. Barner, the matron. The little girls in pretty party dresses and the boys who were far more interested in the people than in their songs, were applauded as they entered, and immediately captured the hearts of their audience.

Other vocal selections on the program, arranged by Mrs. O. M. Brown, were provided by Charles Ellington, Herman Arnold and a chorus of junior members of the staff.

Mrs. W. A. Luney, president of the Women's Board, received guests at the door.

Refreshments were served from a large table in the main room, attractively decorated with autumn flowers and lighted candles. Mrs. J. C. Scott and Mrs. J. W. Collins presided.

General conveners of the successful party were Mrs. R. T. Elliott and Mrs. F. D. Mulholland. Receiving gifts were Mrs. J. W. King, Mrs. F. S. Shandley, Mrs. E. Browne, Mrs. F. D. Longstaff and Mrs. D. Cox.

To Meet In Nanaimo

Mrs. H. W. Cannon, Nanaimo, diocesan president, was in the chair at the meeting of the diocesan Catholic Women's League, held at the Bishop's House.

Plans for the annual diocesan convention at Nanaimo on Oct. 15 and 16 were made. A special bus will leave Victoria at 8 a.m. on Oct. 15, returning the next day to Victoria at 9 p.m. Mrs. C. M. Mulcahy, E 2606, was named transportation convener.

Rev. A. B. Wood, new chaplain to the diocesan C.W.L., was introduced to the meeting by Miss M. Clay, who in turn was congratulated by the president on her appointment as honorary national secretary to the C.W.L. of Canada.

Mrs. Ormond, convener of Indian affairs, reported on visits made and gifts sent to the Indian Hospital at Nanaimo.

President of Victoria subdivision, Mrs. W. Rogers, was appointed convener of the annual fall fair fund in aid of St. Louis College, to be held on Oct. 23 in the college auditorium. Plans were made to serve a turkey supper at 6.30.

Other reports were read as follows: Mrs. A. X. Rey, Duncan; Mrs. C. L. Bedard, Langford; Miss Ida Casillo, corresponding secretary; Miss Mary Comerford, recording secretary, and Miss Mona Doyle, publicity.

Successful Tea

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Commercial Travelers held a successful tea at the home of Mrs. William Bayliss, 345 Foul Bay Road. Mrs. J. G. Jones assisted the hostess in receiving guests and Mrs. J. V. Johnson was in charge of the afternoon tea, served from an attractively appointed table centred with a large bowl of pink and mauve asters and tall pink candles in crystal holders. Presiding at the tea urns were Mrs. Percy George, Mrs. George Murdie, Mrs. Francis Norton and Mrs. A. Gibbs. A home-cooking stall was convened by Mrs. S. Winterbottom. During the afternoon Miss Carole McClellan sang several solos.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. W. Amos, 1320 Yates Street, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Ruby Mae, to William Alexander Thorsen, son of the late Mrs. G. Thorsen of Victoria. The wedding to take place at 7 o'clock, Nov. 1, 1947, at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Four Maids In Red Velvet Colorful Foil For Bride

A quartette of bridal attendants in red velvet gowns made a colorful contrast to the white velvet gown worn by Joan Eileen, daughter of the late Mr. George F. Gibbons, for her marriage to Sub-Lt. (S) Stanley F. Mitchell, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Mitchell, 19 Thornton Avenue, Ottawa, Ont.

Chaplain Bruce Pegler performed the double ring ceremony in the chapel of H.M.C.S. Naden, Wednesday evening. The bride was given in marriage by George Finn.

The gowns of the bride and her attendants were fashioned identically, and featured sweetheart necklines, short puff sleeves, long bodices and full skirts. The heart-shaped headdress of the bride was trimmed with orange blossoms, and held a floor-length embroidered veil. She wore long white gloves, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses, white carnations and gardenias. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls.

Maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Finn, and bridesmaids, Miss May Dauphin, Miss Lorraine Mickleburgh and Miss Georgina Isbister, also wore long white gloves, and carried red velvet muffs trimmed with white flowers and streamers, and bandeaux of white carnations and bouvardia in their hair.

Sub-Lt. (S) Denis Evans was best man. Ushers were Sub-Lt. (S) Harvey Cocks, Sub-Lt. (S) Trevor Roberts and Sub-Lt. John Tucker, all of the R.C.N.

During the signing of the register, Miss Grace Adams sang "Because."

At the reception in the wardroom, H.M.C.S. Naden, David Crofton proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon at Shawnigan Lake, after which the couple will reside at Halifax, the bride wore a gabardine suit of powder blue, with light brown topcoat and accessories, and gardenia corsage.

96th Anniversary Helps Cancer Fund

Rebekah Lodges of Victoria will hold a joint tea next Wednesday, commencing at 3 in the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas Street, to celebrate the 96th anniversary of the order. Proceeds will be used in aid of provincial Cancer fund.

On the same day, 56 Rebekah lodges throughout the province will mark the anniversary by holding a tea in aid of the Rebekah Cancer Fund which is being used to assist out-of-town patients of the British Columbia Cancer Institute not otherwise receiving assistance, with boarding home and nursing home care.

Although this special service only commenced this year, Rebekah lodges have been supporting cancer control since 1938 through subscriptions and donations to the Canadian Cancer Society and the Cancer Institute.

The initial donation made by the Rebekahs for this work established a drug fund and provided furnishings for the social service office.

HARVESTING THE SEA
SINCE THE DAYS OF SIR JOHN A. MacDONALD

In 1881, five years before the last spike in the transcontinental line of the C.P.R. was driven, the House of Todd commenced fishing operations in Victoria which have continued unbroken to the present day.
For 60 years, Todd's brought to Canada the pick of Pacific coast seafoods . . . then, in 1941, the entire pack was diverted to overseas theatres of war, breaking a link with Canadian consumers reaching back to Sir John A. MacDonald.
We are pleased to announce that Todd's salmon is again available in Canada. This heralds the return of "Horseshoe" Sockeye Salmon . . . packed to the same pre-war standards which made it the very symbol of salmon perfection in Canada.
When you buy seafoods, look for the Todd label . . . none but the choicest bear it.

Tories Claim Split In Labor Cabinet To Hasten Election

BRIGHTON, Eng (AP)—Leaders of Britain's Conservative Party declared today that any split in the crisis-beset Labor cabinet would force a national election by next March.

An election may come even sooner, they predict, if there is a recurrence of anything like last winter's fuel crisis, when homes went unheated and millions were thrown out of work by a shortage of coal and power.

A Conservative member of Parliament, former high-ranking government officer and still a close adviser of Winston Churchill, privately explained the view of party leaders this way:

"Eight months ago we weren't even thinking seriously of an election until the end of the full term (1950). Now we are actively planning for a change—possibly in two or three months and certainly not more than six."

Labor spokesmen have dismised similar, less precise forecasts as "Tory propaganda" and "wishful thinking." But here at Brighton, in the midst of the biggest convention in the party's history, is a new air of optimism among the cautious Conservative policy makers and the enthusiastic rank and file delegates.

Riding the crest of this newfound enthusiasm, Lord Woolton, Conservative Party chairman, launched an appeal today for £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) to fight the next general election.

Association Opposes Importing Doctors

TORONTO (CP)—Refugee doctors would be of little value to any country without first undergoing retraining and it would be unwise to bring such doctors to Canada, Dr. T. C. Routley, general secretary of the Canadian Medical Association, said Thursday.

Dr. Routley, back from meetings in Geneva of the World Medical Association, said most refugee doctors had been away from the practice of medicine for a number of years "and they are very rusty." In addition, he said, there was the barrier of language.

"In Canada, we have 13,000 doctors for 12,000,000 people," he added. "They are not equitably distributed, I admit, but it would be of no value to set refugee doctors in rural areas where medical men are needed most, when they can't speak our language and are unable to provide the standard of service we have established."

Dr. Routley added that Canadian medical schools are "jammed with students and we have no place for retraining doctors who have been away from the practice of medicine for a number of years."

War Amputees Are Entertained Here

Expressions of gratitude for the fine way Victoria had received them, was conveyed by Col. (Rev.) Sidney Lambert, Toronto, president of the War Amputations Association of Canada, to Mayor Percy George Thursday night at a banquet and concert for the 365 delegates and wives who came to the city for a few hours' visit following the annual convention in Vancouver.

Col. Lambert was re-elected president at the convention of the war amputation veterans.

During their stay the delegates were guests of the local branch of the association, Arnold Palmer, president, in charge. Artists participating in the concert included Mrs. G. Patterson, soprano; Walter D. Russell, Arthur Jackman, Bob McGill, Fred Usher, Bill Bird, Joe Dobbie and Albert Donnie.

At the mainland convention Richard Myers, former Dominion secretary, now residing in Victoria, and Col. Lambert were presented with two of the three coveted awards presented to delegates for years of fine service they had given the association. Many of the visiting delegates left on the midnight boat to Vancouver. They arrived on the afternoon boat.

Safeways Closes Stores In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Safeway Stores Inc. announced Thursday it was closing its 150 stores in the New York metropolitan area at the end of business Thursday for an indefinite period because of a strike threat by 1,400 employees.

The company does not want "food rotting in a time of shortages," an announcement said.

Students Convene In New College Cafeteria

One of the most popular gathering places on Victoria College campus is the new cafeteria, with accommodation for 250 students. It was converted from two former army buildings, medical and quartermasters stores, and has a connecting corridor. Mrs. A. Norris operates the cafeteria and provides hot nourishing meals for students at a low rate. During the morning and afternoon hot coffee, soup, and sandwiches are available for the students.

Season Of Unusual Development Nears Its End In North Canada

OTTAWA (CP) — Freeze-up time is fast approaching in the north, but officials here who concentrate on development of the great riches of the sub-Arctic regions said today that more solid progress had been made this year than ever before in moving the frontiers of civilization northward.

At the eastern end exploration of the iron ore deposits on the Quebec-Labrador border has made important progress.

A motor road has been built to the Red Lake mining camp in northern Ontario and exploratory work has been developing in the Patricia district.

NORTH OF FLIN FLON

In Manitoba important discoveries of ore deposits containing gold, copper and nickel have resulted in greatly increased activity far north of Flin Flon.

In the Yellowknife area in the Northwest Territories, three mines now are in production and several others are expected to reach production next year.

The power development at Snare River, 94 miles north of Yellowknife, financed by the Dominion government, will produce 8,000-horse power for use in Yellowknife to add to the 4,500 horsepower already being produced by the power plant of the Consolidated Smelters at Bluefish Lake. The Snare River plant is expected to start delivering power next summer.

The 315-mile highway from Grimshaw, Alta., to the south shore of Great Slave Lake across from Yellowknife has 164 miles graded and 39 miles surfaced, but it will not be completed until 1949. It is a joint operation of the Alberta and Dominion governments.

The Northern Transportation Company, which the Dominion acquired when it took over the Eldorado Mines, is building up an important fleet to operate all the way from Waterways in Alberta 1,349 miles to Aklavik. It has 14 tugs and 37 barges, almost entirely of steel construction. From 1945 to this year $2,200,000 has been spent on floating equipment.

Secrecy surrounds the activities of the government-owned Eldorado Company's pitchblend mine on Great Bear Lake except that it is working to capacity.

PROGRESS IN B.C.

Reports of placer gold finds south of Aklavik, and considerable mining developments in British Columbia complete the continent-wide advance into the north paced by government survey parties preparing geological information for the prospectors.

The advance in the Northwest Territories encounters great obstacles. The tremendous distances pile up transportation costs. Development and operation expenses are accentuated by the high cost of living. Extreme cold and long winters make living in towns like Yellowknife less attractive than places farther south.

On the credit side the country provides almost unlimited sources of waterpower. While Snare River development will provide only 8,000 horsepower reports are that it could be stepped up to 25,000 horsepower if the demand developed.

New High-Speed Radio Teletype Station At Churchill

OTTAWA — High-speed radio teletype apparatus of the most modern type has been put into operation in the Fort Churchill-Ottawa link of the Canadian Army Signals system, army headquarters announced today.

The new apparatus replaces the present "hand-speed" wireless communication to Churchill and is capable of handling many times the traffic volume of the old equipment.

As part of the Canadian Army Signals system, operators at Fort Churchill are able to communicate through Ottawa with any other station in the network, including Washington and London. Plans to provide a direct wireless teletype link between Fort Churchill and Winnipeg are also under consideration.

The Canadian Army Signals system stretches the length and breadth of the Dominion, and links army headquarters at Ottawa with all command and area headquarters. Communication with remote stations in the north is maintained through Edmonton, the headquarters of the Northwest Territories and Yukon radio system.

Large stations of the system have remotely controlled transmitting and receiving stations located some distance from the central signal offices. These stations are serviced by a small maintenance team of four or five men, while the main task of registering, sending, receiving and delivering messages is handled by the central office. Up to 8,000,000 words of traffic have been handled by one office in a single month.

400,000 Left Feet that never push a clutch!

GM HYDRA-MATIC DRIVE has been proved by nearly 400,000 Oldsmobile owners in billions of miles of "no-clutch, no-shift" driving!
400,000 Left Feet . . . left without a thing to do! Because Hydra-Matic Drive eliminates the clutch pedal and all clutch pushing. 400,000 right hands . . . on the steering wheel where they belong! Because Hydra-Matic Drive shifts gears automatically—makes manual shifting a thing of the past!
That's the story of convincing proof that lies behind the GM Hydra-Matic Drive of today. Oldsmobile first introduced this revolutionary advancement almost 8 years ago! And since then, nearly 400,000 owners of Hydra-Matic Oldsmobiles have found a new freedom in driving—new ease, new safety, new pick-up and pep and performance! These owners have driven literally billions of miles—without ever shifting, or pushing a clutch.
After these 8 years, Hydra-Matic Drive is still the only "drive" that eliminates the clutch pedal and shifts gears automatically through four forward speeds. The lowest-priced car to offer GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is the smart new Oldsmobile. It's ahead in performance—automatically. Ahead in appearance—dramatically. That's why people say—emphatically . . . "It's SMART to Own an Olds!"
The demand for Oldsmobile with the new GM Hydra-Matic Drive* is so widespread that it still greatly exceeds the supply. Make sure your present car carries you conveniently and safely through the waiting period by having it serviced regularly by your Oldsmobile dealer.

Dutch Girl Visits Flier She Saved

PO. Charles Newton Durdin of London, Ont., nephew of S. L. Durdin of 822 Esquimalt Road, was one of 72 Canadian and American airmen who were aided in escapes from enemy-occupied territory by Miss Tiny Mulder, Dutch underground leader at present touring Canada and the United States.

Miss Mulder visited PO. Durdin at his home, 11 Wharncliffe Road North, while in London. The young airman crashed over The Netherlands, Jan. 29, 1944, and was hid out by Miss Mulder for six months before transferring him to Belgium by an underground chain. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Durdin.

Optimist Club Hears Address By Mayor

The Victoria Optimist Club, which was chartered only last March, was given civic recognition at its meeting Thursday when addressed by Mayor Percy E. George.

The mayor told the members he was speaking not only for the City Council of Victoria but also for the councils of Esquimalt, Saanich and Oak Bay when he expressed greetings and wished the club every success.

"The more service clubs there are to help in civic affairs, the better it is," the mayor commented.

Members were urged to live up to their club's creed and to spread the feeling of optimism, cheerfulness and singleness of purpose.

Arnold Ramer, immediate past president of the club, thanked the mayor for his address and announced that next week would be Optimist Week in this city. Starting Oct. 5, the club will wage an intensive campaign to familiarize Victorians with aims and objects of Optimist International.

Ex-Civil Servants Discuss New Deal On Superannuation

At the monthly meeting of the B.C. Retired Civil Servants' Association held in Macdonald Hall on Thursday afternoon, the elimination of the means test for old age pensions, and old age pensions as a minimum for superannuation grants were among matters discussed.

The president, A. S. Tyrer, read a number of letters from retired civil servants on the mainland inquiring about the objects of the association with a view to joining or forming new branches in mainland cities. It was decided to forward a circular to all inquirers stating the objects of the association and what had been accomplished, with a notification of the intent to follow up the movement fr a cost of living bonus.

Mr. Hodkginson pointed to the advisability of using the old age pension of $40 a month as a starting point for superannuation. Since civil service superannuants had paid in half the amount they were receiving it was reasonable that they should get the amount granted to others unconditionally.

Mr. Tyrer said that in view of approaching changes in government it would be better to let matters stand until they knew with whom they had to deal.

G. Ingledew, just returned from a visit to England, had found civil servants there with handsome superannuation received the old age pension also.

It was pointed out that this might be recovered in income tax. After further discussion it was agreed that a resolution favoring the elimination of the means test be forwarded to the authorities at Ottawa, and copies sent to local federal members.

Political Organizations Approved For U.B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Political clubs with the names and policies of national political parties are now legal on the University of British Columbia campus and all other student organizations are forbidden to act as instruments of partizan politics, it was decided by more than 3,000 students in a voice vote at the semiannual meeting of the Alma Mater Society.

Already Liberal, C.C.F. and Labor Progressive parties have been organized and a Progressive Conservative move is under way.

Davis Cup Upset

Stringer's Home Run Gives Angels Victory; Oaks Lose

Pennant-winning Los Angeles was virtually a cinch to be a finalist in the Coast League's Governor's Cup playoff, but the issue between San Francisco and Oakland was in doubt today.

The Angels made it three straight over Portland as Lou Stringer's three-run homer with two away in the ninth produced a 6 to 3 victory. San Francisco, after bowing twice to the Oaks, bounced back to win, 4 to 3 in 11 innings, to keep Seals' hopes alive.

Notching the Los Angeles victory was reliable Jess Dobernic, who appropriately enough had been made honorary fire chief by the L.A.F.D. before the game in recognition of his talents as a mound fireman. Called to Red Adams' aid in the seventh after the Beavers burst forth with three tying tallies, Chief Dobernic again doused the flames.

Jake Mooty, who relieved starter Ad Liska, was the victim of Stringer's clout.

Hugh Luby's double and Ray Orteig's single broke up the Seal-Oaks duel between Willie Werle and Mike Budnick for the former and Gene Bearden, who went all the way for the Acorns. Budnick, who twirled only the 11th, was the winner.

The all-Bay series moves over to Oakland today. Portland will finish its series at Los Angeles, it was decided, because of weather conditions in Oregon. One more win for the Angels, and it's all over anyway.

Tacoma Tigers Sold For Sum Of $109,000

TACOMA (AP) — For a sum of $109,000 the ownership of the Tacoma Tigers of the Western International Baseball League will be transferred to the San Diego Club of the Coast League, it was revealed here Thursday when a recording of the sale was made in the office of the county auditor.

The sale, made earlier this week, calls for a down payment of $25,000 and the remainder in annual payments of $12,000 each at 4 per cent interest. The deal includes the Tacoma Tigers' park property, players, team franchise in the W.I.I. League and other franchises and privileges of the club.

The sellers were listed as Eddie Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Alexson, and the buyers as the San Diego Club and William Starr, president of the Padres.

Cricket Club To Sponsor Dance

A dance sponsored by the ex-R.A.F. Cricket Club will be held at the North Ward Community Hall tonight, first in a series of social and sport activities planned by the group for the winter season.

Plans call for the forming of a bowling league and a skating club, while arrangements for the inauguration of a badminton club are well under way.

Rugby Meeting

Victoria Rugby Union will hold its annual meeting at the Douglas Hotel, Monday at 8.

Teams are requested to have delegates present as plans for the season will be discussed and election of officers held.

RIDING ACADEMY

Arrangements for the coming season were discussed at a recent meeting of the Victoria Riding and Hunt Club. First ride of the fall season will be staged tomorrow from the Willows Riding Academy at 2.30. Tea will be served in the Club House at 4. Old members, friends and others interested are invited to attend the ride.

JUVENILE SOCCER

Line-up of the marketmen follows: Archie McMillan, Don Hendry, Bill Bamford, Herb Wetherell, Ken Cook, Archie Sillars, Bob Lawson, Ken Lore, Frank Bell, Wayne Henderson, Dave Ready, Orie LeBus, Lowell Hodges and Glen Fawcett.

PLAY IN VANCOUVER

BELFAST (AP)—Fred Daly, British Open and match play champion, said today he hoped to partner Henry Cotton in two exhibition matches in Vancouver, B.C., after the Ryder Cup match against the United States at Portland, Ore., Nov. 1 and 2.

Adanacs Rally To Capture First Game Of Boxla Final

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP) — New Westminster Adanacs today had a one-game edge over Mimico Mountaineers in the best-of-five Canadian senior lacrosse finals and the Mann Cup closer to their grasp because they could muster a gallop when the Mountaineers were slowed to a trot.

Mountaineers bowed, 17 to 14, to Adanacs in the series opener here last night. After swinging their butted sticks in accurate fashion for three and a half quarters, Mimico was ridden down by a New Westminster surge of power in the four final minutes.

At the half-way mark of the final quarter, the score was tied —for the eighth time—at 14 to 14. Adanacs, led by galloping Sam Kabatow, abandoned their defensive tactics, at which they were no match for the heavier Mounties, and began a series of fast-breaking runs.

The change of strategy threw the tiring Mounties into confusion. When Jack Northup intercepted a pass at his own goal mouth, raced the length of the box and beat stellar goalie Ray Mortimore, the tide was turned. Two goals shortly after by Douglas and Bob Lee provided the clinchers.

Two of the payoff goals were scored with Mimico's starry Ken Dixon serving a minor penalty.

The shifty forward was the mainspring of Mimico forays, slamming home four counters. Brother Archie, who netted three markers, and centre Don McPhail, also with a trio, were the other standout eastern sharpshooters.

The closely-fought contest—not until the final minute was there more than a two-goal spread—had a sellout Queen's Park Arena crowd of 5,000 at a constant fever pitch.

ADANAC GOALIE HURT

Despite their victory, some concern was felt among Adanac supporters over the loss of their brilliant rookie goalie, Gordy Pogue. Pogue suffered windpipe injuries in practice and will probably be out of the series.

When the two teams meet here in the series second game Saturday, Mimico will attempt to upset Adanacs and "the cards." For only twice in the 15-year history of the Mann Cup boxla finals has an eastern team won the series in the west.

Lacrosse Semifinal Scheduled Tomorrow

Canadian Legion box lacrosse squad will open defence of their British Columbia senior B title tomorrow afternoon at Stevenson Memorial Park when they meet the mainland winner in the first of a best-of-three series.

The second game is scheduled for Sunday with venue of the third game undecided. Both games will start at 3. The mainland winner has yet to be named. Enderby and Cloverdale are playing off for the crown.

165 Entries In Championship Dog Show Tomorrow

Championship show of the Victoria Kennel Club to be held at the Armories tomorrow lists 165 dogs competing for the valuable prizes and championship points. Two rings will be in operation and judges Robert Waters of Vancouver and Mrs. E. P. Renner of Great Barrington, Mass., will be kept busy selecting choice canines throughout the day. Judging will open at 10 in the morning, continuing till late in the evening when the final award of best in the show is chosen.

Trophies will be awarded to the winners of the toy, sporting, non-sporting, working, terrier and sporting-hound groups, best Canadian breed and best brace. All prizes except the best of breed will be competed for in the evening. The parade of champions will also take place in the evening.

Cocker spaniels top the entry list with 30 dogs competing, 20 being the American type. The terrier group is well represented, and the honors are more or less equally divided.

Eddie Haddad To Box At Naden Tonight

Feature bout on tonight's boxing card at R.C.N. Naden will pit together Golden Gloves boxing champion Eddie Haddad and Able Seaman Aylward in an exhibition.

Nine other bouts of three rounds each will follow the feature event. First bout starts at 8.

Mustangs Primed For Tussle With Navy

Victoria Mustangs will be all out for the opening game of their three-game series with Navy gridders tomorrow at Macdonald Park, starting at 2.30.

Putting in two gruelling weeks of workouts under acting coach Steve Rynoski, Mustangs will venge their spite against the Navy lads for the 52 to 0 drubbing they absorbed at the hands of an American grid squad two weeks ago. The game will be played under American college rules.

Sports Mirror

By "SONNY" WALKER

WHILE chatting with Bert Buller over a cup of coffee the other day, the prominent rugger official came up with what I believe is a good suggestion for juvenile baseball in the city and on the island. Buller, who as every Victoria sportsman knows is vitally interested in athletics, would like to see the Canadian Legion sponsor juvenile baseball along the lines of American Legion ball in the United States. Playoffs could be held at the close of the season between various sections of the island, winners playing off with the mainland or even United States teams. American Legion baseball has reached tremendous proportions in the United States, nation-wide tournaments being held every year.

BULLER had nothing but praise for the work of the local juvenile baseball association, and in submitting his suggestion stressed the fact that he did not want to pry into their affairs but thought the idea warranted some consideration in the interest of juvenile athletics. If anyone else has any ideas on the subject why not drop us a line or, better still, get in touch with Mr. Buller, who would be only too willing to discuss the project.

TOMMY Restell, secretary of the Senior Amateur League, when questioned on the subject agreed that it would benefit baseball greatly in this area. As for the Canadian Legion taking a hand in the matter, that is entirely up to that astute body alone. But, with one Legion branch or branches starting a project such as this it could reach provincial or even Dominion-wide proportions, especially with such a powerful organization behind it.

A NOTE in the mail this week from Abe Saperstein, manager of the Harlem Globe Trotters basketball team, may be of interest to hoop patrons. Saperstein reveals that he has signed Bud Buie, the one-armed sensation of the Trotters' farm club, Kansas City Blues, last year. Saperstein will probably use Buie with the Kansas City club again this year, and Victoria fans may see the colored star in action if the present controversy between amateur and professional hoopsters is cleared up by that time. Fans will remember that last year the appearance of touring pro clubs caused quite a stir in amateur basketball ranks, especially in the United States.

WORD from the mainland is that New Westminster Adanacs are endeavoring to sign up Norm Baker for the hoop season. Much as we would like to see the blond bombshell in amateur garb — preferably in Victoria — we can't entertain much hope that this will come about this season, as it normally takes one year to reinstate a professional athlete into the simon-pure bracket. Besides, why should Baker turn down an offer to play professional ball for another winter, especially when he can make a comfortable living at the sport? Speaking of the Vancouver Hornets, it is quite possible that certain officials in the city will endeavor to have some of the Vancouver home games played in Victoria this year. The venture fell flat last year.

Relief Pitchers Steal World Series Spotlight

BROOKLYN (AP)—Somehow, Ebbets Field seems a more appropriate setting than Yankee Stadium for a world series. Old Deacon Rickey put his foot down when they suggest all seven games ought to be played in the more comfortable stadium. And now that the Dodgers and the Yanks have moved over to Flatbush, most everyone agrees he was right.

They gave the game back to the people when they brought it to Flatbush. Instead of the plush and the chrome of the stadium club, the little Ebbets Field bandbox modestly offers just hot dogs and peanuts.

The crowds which at the stadium seemed to be neutral, if not indifferent, here are whooping and boisterous, intensely partisan. The great majority of the seats normally occupied by Dodgerites are held by out-of-towners, of course, but there are still enough of the faithful on hand to cheer on their beloved Bums.

The home runs by Joe DiMaggio and Yogi Berra yesterday were Nos. 71 and 72 by the Yankees in world series competition. That's two more than the entire National League has accumulated in 44 years of postseason play. It was the Dodgers' best day with the stick in a series game.

NEWSOM TALKATIVE

The Yanks went from the stadium in the Bronx to Ebbets Field in Brooklyn by bus in record time—a 33-minute performance that made the driver lok like another Maurie Rose.

The Yanks were thoroughly shaken and that was manager Bucky Harris' main topic of conversation before the game. Said Bobo Newsom: "If we survived that ride, I ought to survive this ball game." He got a quicker ride in the second inning from the Dodgers, though.

SERIES NOTES

What a relief! First to see those downtrodden Bums win, of course . . . and then to get out of the chilly atmosphere of Yankee Stadium into the colorful, more-human confines of Ebbets Field. . . . The difference is that baseball in Brooklyn still is a sport; in the stadium it's an amusement enterprise . . . and finally, what relief pitching! . . . The press box announcer said it: "The winning pitcher is Casey—by vote of the assembly." . . . The rotund restaurant keeper earned plenty of votes the way he stopped the Yanks in the 1st three innings when it was beginning to look as if no one could stop the Bronx Bombers . . . and Joe Page turned in just as brilliant a job of clutch hurling as the fifth Yankee flinger.

When the Yanks threatened to tie it up in the sixth, someone remarked: "Well, it looks as if we'll have a new ball game." . . . The answer was obvious: "It ought to be." . . . After taking nearly two hours to score 15 runs in the first 4½ innings it was time to start over.

Most prophetic remark of the day came from Yankee manager Bucky Harris as he looked from the dugout toward the comparatively short right field wall. "If they hit the ball today like they did yesterday, we'll have some fun here." . . . Bucky must have been talking for both teams.

SPOKANE (AP)—Ever Pretty won the feature $800 Sportsmen's purse at Playfair Track Thursday and returned $3.30, $2.60 and $2.30. Kid Higher paid $4.60 and $3 to place and Gold Turnpik paid $3.80 to show.

Rookies Show Up Well At Chicago Training Camp

REGINA (CP)—Take a pair of high-scoring rookies who have been burning up amateur leagues for the last couple of seasons, add a steady, dependable veteran with years of profesional experience behind him, and you have a dynamite-laden forward line which could explode at any minute and break up a hockey game.

That's what coach Johnny Gottselig of Chicago Black Hawks figures he has in Metro Prystai, Cy Thomas and Red Hamill—his number three line this year.

Prystai was high scorer in Saskatchewan junior hockey with Moose Jaw Canucks for the last two seasons; Thomas was rated the prize newcomer to western senior hockey when he played with Edmonton Flyers last year and Hamill this year starts his 10th professional season.

Both rookies have discovered already the big gap that separates amateurs from professional hockey—the pace is faster, the going tougher and the atmosphere more business-like.

"They even play for keeps in practice," Thomas said.

Thomas, now 21, started as a junior with Edmonton Canadians then moved up to the Flyers—semifinalists in western senior hockey—last year after three years with the Canadians.

Prystai was 16 when he started with Moose Jaw Canucks three years ago and for the last two years was the league's leading scorer.

Big Four Officials Criticized For 12 Game Schedule

TORONTO (CP) — Big Four officials have taken a good deal of criticism in recent weeks for adopting a 12-game schedule for the present season.

Latest sportswriter to come out and say something against the "gentlemen who do not have to carry the ball" is Mike Rodden. He says history shows that no team can travel at top speed, or anywhere near it, when shouldering the burden of playing 12 games in 36 days.

Comments Mike: "Despite all evasions of the code and the most strenuous interference, plunging and extension running have lost their sting. The forward pass, instead of opening up the way for plungers and end-runners, has almost stopped plungers and extension runners in their tracks."

Comparing the figures of plungers like Jackie Baker of the 1928 Tigers with the records of present-day big four smashers, Mike relates that in one Argos game the plungers netted a total of 54 yards while Baker alone accounted for 210 yards in one game.

"Fans who like to see football played according to the code will now have to turn to the Intercollegiate Union wherein are contained speedsters who will probably open up the play in more ways than one. Bring on those Western Mustangs!"

Prior to the Western-O.A.C. exhibition football game last Saturday in London's J. W. Little Memorial Stadium, Pat (Guelph Mercury) Scott, said that Western coach John Metras regards his exhibition encounter with the Aggies more as a convenient means of selecting winning candidates for his first-string squad than as an even anaemic threat to the champions' unspeckled reputation.

Western won 42 to 6.

Demaret Takes Lead In Reading Tourney

READING, Pa. (AP)—A near perfect round of golf—a 65 that carved six strokes from par—gave Jimmy Demaret a three-shot lead in the first round of the $10,000 Reading Open.

In second place was Terl Johnson, Philadelphia pro, who carded 68.

One stroke further back was Bobby Locke, the knickerman from Johannesburg, South Africa, tied with amateur Frank Stranahan, Toledo, and tournament veterans Dutch Harrison, York, Pa., and Willie Goggin, White Plains, N.Y.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sergeant Don, ridden by Jockey J. Robinson and owned by West brothers, won the six-furlong feature race at Portland Meadows Thursday in 1.13.2 minutes. Blue Chord ran second and Hard Twist third. The winner paid $9, $3.50 and $2.60.

The tuberculosis germ was discovered in 1882 by the German scientist, Robert Koch.

Hockey Training Notes

Coach Dick Irwin is really worried these days and it's not because Frank Boucher said Montreal Canadiens are slipping. Irwin is wiping his brow because goalie Bill Durnan is an unlikely starter when the Montrealers take to the Forum ice Oct. 16 against the Rangers. Vezina Bill had a piece of cartilage removed from his knee during the off-season and the knee has been slow responding to treatment.

* * *

If Durnan has to sit out a few games, the Habitants will rely on youthful Gerry McNeil, net custodian for last year's Allan Cup winning Royals. McNeil is highly regarded by the Hab management who feel he could take over anytime from Durnan and hold his own in the N.H.L. To Montreal fans it won't seem the same without big Bill, whose brilliant puck-stopping led Canadiens to four straight league titles and won him the Vezina trophy four times.

* * *

Coach Hap Day, after watching his Toronto Maple Leafs work out at St. Catharines yesterday, said "That's the best practice so far." Joe Klukay and Nick Metz led the scorers with two goals each.

* * *

Ted Kennedy, celebrating his return to the Leaf line-up tired quickly and it will be some time before he is back in condition. He was out of action about a week with a deep skate cut on his left foot.

* * *

Leafs are experimenting with a new defence set-up. They have teamed Bill Barilko and Garth Boesch together and have put Bob Goldham beside Wally Stanowski. The only line left intact is the kid line of Jimmy Thompson and Gus Mortson.

* * *

Montreal's Dick Irvin, coach of the All-Stars, will present a colorful unit in more ways than one, when the Leafs clash with the All-Stars in Toronto Thanksgiving Day. The pick of the league will be decked out in scarlet-red sweaters with white stripes on the arms and stars across the shoulders.

District Soccer Loop Opens Next Week

The four-team Victoria and District Football Association will open its 1947-48 season at Athletic Park Oct. 11, when Canadian Legion tackle the speedy Oak Bay eleven.

Schedule of the first half lists teams engaging each other in a home-and-home series.

Following is the complete first-half schedule:

Nov. 11—Wests vs. Esquimalt, Athletic Park.
Nov. 15—Oak Bay vs. Legion, Athletic Park.
Nov. 22—Legion vs. Wests, Athletic Park.
Nov. 23—Oak Bay vs. Esquimalt, Heywood Avenue or Athletic Park.
Nov. 29—Esquimalt vs. Legion, Athletic Park.
Nov. 30—Wests vs. Oak Bay, Athletic Park or Heywood Avenue.

Milwaukee Brewers Take 3-2 Lead In Little World Series

Milwaukee's Brewers of the American Association needed one more victory today to score their first Little World Series victory since 1936.

The Brewers, who finished their league season in third place and whipped Kansas City and Louisville in the playoffs, went ahead for the first time last night in the current little world series by coming from behind twice at Milwaukee to defeat Syracuse Chiefs of the International League, 6 to 5. The victory was the third straight for the Brews, after they lost the first two games at Syracuse, in the best-of-seven series.

In their sixth contest tonight, Milwaukee will rely on right-hander Vern Bickford. Syracuse will call on Howie Fox, another righthander, who was a 7 to 1 victor Sunday.

Liberal Executive Urges Change In New B.C. Labor Legislation

From C.P. Dispatches

VANCOUVER—The provincial executive of the Liberal Party has recommended amendment of British Columbia's new labor code, the contentious so-called Bill 39.

Before the wind-up of business Thursday afternoon at the formal sessions the executive delegates unanimously called for an early amendment to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, which became law last May 15 and which provides for penalties against employees and employers for illegal strikes and lockouts. The legislation has been denounced by labor unions.

Although expressing agreement with the principles and objectives of the measure, the executive asked that the government make it "more consistent with recognized liberal, democratic and equitable principles" and to provide for a "much more practical, speedy and efficient method of administration."

Possible amendment of the legislation has been welcomed by labor leaders.

Also recommended by the executive was "the immediate crystallization and implementation of a sound immigration policy," an immediate survey (with relation to cost of living) of salaries of retail clerks, office employees and civil servants, with instructions to the Board of Industrial Relations to consider immediately the establishing of a minimum wage for such employees of $25 a week, and construction of a modern coast-to-coast highway, to be undertaken by the Dominion, as a step toward development of national unity.

Extension of full Canadian citizenship rights to native Indians was also advocated.

The executive also heard Premier John Hart hint that electric power rates in the province may go down, but he gave no indication of when the decreases may be expected.

He explained that the Public Utilities Commission, rate-setting provincial government body, had asked the B.C. Electric Co. Ltd. to submit to it before the year's end rate schedules setting out revenues and costs more closely in each individual unit of service.

Reserves Decision

The Appeal Court has reserved judgment in the case of the British Columbia Power Commission's appeal against a decision of Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson disallowing an appeal against valuations placed on power plants expropriated by the commission.

The commission in its appeal is seeking the right to have its case heard in Supreme Court with regard to valuation placed on the plants by the American Appraisal Co. of Milwaukee. The claim is that the valuations were much too high, and a difference of over $1,000,000 should be reimbursed to the commission.

In its argument before the Appeal Court, the commission claimed the judge exceeded his jurisdiction in ruling the appeal out of time, because the notice of appeal was not given within the prescribed 30 days.

H. W. Davey, K.C., acted on behalf of the commission. Alfred Bull, K.C., was counsel for the respondent.

Executive members of the Canadian Restaurant Association were guests of Victoria restaurant owners at a social meeting Thursday night.

'Y' Registrations Increase; More Instructors Named

Registrations in the Y.M.C.A.'s long list of fall and winter activities has reached such proportions that additional instructors have been appointed and more classes formed, Bob Morrison, program secretary, announced today.

Instead of the two leathercraft classes, which had been scheduled weekly, the new program now calls for classes to be held every night Monday through Friday. Miss Ruth Harrison and Elaine Silburn have been appointed new instructors.

Public speaking classes commence Tuesday for both men and women. Instructors are Dorothy Howse and Laurie Westendale. An additional class in fencing has been scheduled, the class taking place from 8 to 9 Wednesdays, following the 7 to 8 class.

Those interested in badminton are asked to meet at the Y.M.C.A. Monday at 8. A committee to draw up schedules will be appointed at the meeting.

Dancing classes start Oct. 10 with modern dancing at 7 and old-time dancing at 8. This schedule will remain in effect until Oct. 24 when old-time dancing will be held from 9.15 to 10.15.

The so-ed series will resume Oct. 24 and continue until Nov. 28. Topics will be modern marriage, meeting procedure bridge and old-time dancing.

Everett Moscrip has been named as an instructor in the plastic class.

The fall program will officially open Oct. 15 with a formal dance — waltz night — at the Y.M.C.A.

600 Names Added To Mayor's Fund List

A list of 600 more names to be added to those who will receive food parcels for Christmas to mark the wedding of Princess Elizabeth and Lieut. Phillip Mountbatten is on its way to the Mayor's Fund committee, Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, chairman, was informed today by the Women's Voluntary Services. The tag day is tomorrow.

Mrs. Elsa Dunbar, head of the empire and foreign department writes: "It is more than kind of you to ask for so many and I am hastening to send them with the very greatest pleasure."

Speaking of how welcome the parcels will be, she says: "In view of the recent food cuts and the hard winter which we have to face, I am afraid this Christmas people will have to go short of many things and therefore the beautiful food parcels which you are planning to send will bring immense happiness in many homes."

She continued "I am sure that this wonderful generosity to our country will be most gratefully appreciated by Princess Elizabeth as well as by everyone who will be fortunate enough to receive a food parcel."

A building permit has been issued to E. W. Whitehead to build a five-room house on Irving Road, costing $5,500.

Construction Men In Victoria For Two-Day Building Parley

More than 100 contractors from almost every major city in the Dominion arrived in Victoria this afternoon to take part in a two-day general session of the Canadian Construction Association. The party was headed by Albert Deschamps, O.B.E., president of the association; Allan C. Ross, vice-president, and R. G. Johnson, general manager.

Victoria contractors who are members of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, an affiliate group of the C.C.A., will play host to the visitors.

The session opens tonight with a dinner meeting in the Empress Hotel. On hand to welcome the builders on behalf of the city will be Mayor Percy E. George. Representing the provincial government will be Works Minister E. C. Carson. Walter Miles, vice-president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, will also attend.

George Wheaton, president of the Victoria Builders' Exchange, will take charge of the meeting until after the introduction of guests. Then he will turn the chair over to Mr. Deschamps, who will lead the discussion.

Among many topics which are expected to be brought forward are: Present-day high construction costs, the establishment of a federal government planning board to deal with independent public projects, the possibility of opening this country to immigrants who are skilled construction workers, a nation-wide program for the erection of low-cost homes for low-income families, the apprenticeship system and labor productivity.

ALLAN C. ROSS

Tomorrow's meeting will be confined to executive members of the association. Arrangements have been made for other delegates to play golf or go fishing. In the afternoon, a sightseeing trip is scheduled for all members.

The conference will conclude with an after-five party and entertainment Saturday evening in the Empress Hotel.

Expect 1,200 Night School Pupils

On enrollment of 1,200 in night school classes is anticipated by George Anstey, director, as 581 registered the first night in half the classes.

Additional classes in woodworking and dressmaking have been set up Mondays and Wednesdays at Victoria High School to handle the heavy enrollment he said. However, at Oak Bay High School only seven turned up for the class. Unless 15 enroll Tuesday the class will be dropped.

Navigation and radio script writing are other classes which have not sufficient enrollment as yet.

The making of small clay figures and souvenirs will be added to the curriculum of the toy-making class.

The journalism and short-story writing classes are popular, Mr. Anstey said, and may be divided into two sections. Russian and Spanish classes are also well attended.

Reistration of classes at Mount View High School will be tonight, Monday at Central Junior High School, and the remainder of the classes will register Tuesday at Victoria High School.

Ukrainian Soviet Says Britain, U.S. Disturbing Greece

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—Dmitri Manuilsky, Ukrainian Foreign Minister, today told the United Nations Political Committee that "false and lying testimony" had been used in an attempt to prove that Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia were helping Greek guerrillas in their fight against the Greek government.

The shaggy-haired, moustached veteran Communist, who is a member of the Politburo of the Kremlin, repeated the Soviet charge that the United States was trying to throw a smoke-screen about its intervention in Greece.

In a 53-minute speech Manuilsky pounded home the Soviet argument he has made so often in the last year—that the troubles in Greece arose from the presence there of British and U.S. forces.

He said the remedy in Greece was for all British and American forces to be ordered out, with the United Nations forbidding any outside assistance to the Greek government and the Greeks left to settle their own internal troubles.

Hearing On Milk Price Raise Oct. 10

The milk board will hold a hearing Oct. 10 at 10 in the morning on the application of primary producers supplying Greater Victoria for an increase in fluid milk prices, E. C. Carr, commissioner, informed Mayor Percy George today.

The hearing will be at Knights of Pythias Hall, and the city has been invited to make a submission.

Mayor George said he would refer the matter to the health committee under the chairmanship of Ald. J. D. Hunter.

Still Missing

William Jarvie, 71, of 546 David Street, who has been the object of a wide search by police, relatives and friends since he disappeared Sept. 19 is still missing.

Police have circulated a description of the missing man to up-island and mainland points in the hope he will be recognized. He is believed suffering from loss of memory. Mr. Jarvie has friends in Nanaimo, where he lived for 38 years.

Ice Cream Cones Involved In City Traffic Court Case

With the comment "there was not the wild driving we sometimes meet in this type of case," Magistrate H. C. Hall imposed a fine of $35, but did not place a prohibition on the defendant operating a car in the future, when he found Hazelwood Brewster, Saanich, guilty on a dangerous driving charge involving the injury of a policeman.

The charge arose from an accident at the intersections of Johnson and Vancouver Streets, Aug. 23, between accused's car and a police sidecar motorcycle driven by Constable Lester Clark.

While Inspector John Blackstock and Constable William Andrews both testified accused said he had been eating an ice cream cone at the time of the accident, Brewster said he had finished his cone before the mishap. His daughter who was sitting beside him was holding a cone for her mother and the jar threw it out of her hand.

The two officers said also that the defendant had said he had been blinded by the sun. Accused said he had not mentioned the sun.

Magistrate Hall found that while Brewster, a farmer, had not been driving at a great speed—evidence was between 20 to 25 miles an hour—he had not kept a careful watch on traffic at the intersection.

Constable Clark, who said everything went blank when his motorcycle was struck, spent some time in hospital recovering from his injuries.

Housing Decision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Representatives of North Pacific Contractors Ltd., Vancouver, B.C., were meeting here today with officials of the federal Public Housing Authority, hopeful of acquiring about 1,700 housing units at Port Orchard, Wash. The buildings would be moved to Vancouver and Alberni, B.C., for housing veterans.

330,000 Flee Flood

SHANGHAI (AP)—An estimated 330,000 refugees from floods in Liaoning province of western Manchuria have been reduced to eating grass, Chinese relief officials said they were advised today. More than 2,000,000 acres of land were reported flooded in the lower reaches of the Liao River.

Geese Seen Over Victoria, Ducks Also On The Move

Huntsmen got an indication today that migatory waterfowl were on the move with the passage over Victoria this morning of some 50 geese—forerunners of thousands more who will be making their way from Arctic regions to more southern climes.

One citizen reported seeing geese from Cadboro and Thompson roads early this morning. The geese—50 in number—circled the Willows race track a few times before heading in a southerly direction.

Dr. Clifford Carl, president of the Victoria Natural History Society, said it was not unusual to see geese at this time as this was around the time the period migatory waterfowl began to move south.

"The movement of geese is not regular," he said, "some years they may start to migrate earlier, but the difference in time is not great."

Dr. Carl said the migratory route of geese and other waterfowl was usually off-shore, many miles out to sea, thought sometimes they passed overland.

"Some years we may see great numbers of them over Vancouver Island," he said. "But usually they are only seen in small numbers."

Ducks had started to arrive at Beacon Hill Park, Dr. Carl said. Widgeons began to arrive last week, and several other species were expected within the next few weeks.

The migration of birds is still considered a great natural phenonema which scientists have failed to solve. Some of the birds, like the Arctic tern will fly from the Arctic to the southern tip of South America. These birds will sometimes make a round trip, flying to Africa first, thence to South America and back to northern Canada.

Geese and other waterfowl can fly thousands of miles without rest, though usually they will alight in order to obtain food.

Town Topics

St. Saviour's Parish harvest supper will be held in the church hall next Tuesday at 6. Proceeds will be given to the building fund.

Borge E. Rasmussen, taxi driver, was fined $40 and had his driver's license suspended for one month when he found guilty Thursday in city police court on a dangerous driving charge.

The superfluities auction of the Esquimalt Legion branch will take place in the Legion Hall, 622 Admirals Road, at 2 tomorrow afternoon. Donations for the sale will still be picked up by calling B 3339.

Leslie Mindenhall, 111 Clarence Street, reported to city police that when he was in the Bank of Montreal Wednesday he left his candid camera on a desk in the bank. When he returned to get the camera it was gone.

In Saanich police court Thursday afternoon six motorists paid $15 each for violating speed regulations. Total traffic fines amounted to $140. One resident was found guilty of letting his cow wander at large and was fined $5.

The executive committee of the Georgian Choristers met on Monday evening. Music for the current season was discussed and it was decided to increase the membership of the choir. Anyone wishing to join this Ladies' Choir please 'phone Georgina Watt G 8949.

The provincial works department's call for tenders for two small mainland building projects today failed to attract any bids from B.C. contractors. The projects were for the construction of a lockup at Squamish and a court house at Quesnel.

At a special City Council meeting today the time for submission of tenders for roof covering and drainage of the Memorial Arena was extended until Monday. Only one tender was received by the arena committee so far, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar, chairman, reported. It was not opened.

K. A. McLeod, Fort Street, reported to city police that a diamond-studded $1,000 set of yellow gold earrings and another $50 set were stolen from his store. He told police the earrings, in for repairs, were left on a bench in the store Tuesday night and that they were missing Wednesday morning. There was no sign of entry.

At 1.25 this morning, D. Mc Donald, 1023 North Park Street, reported to city police his car had been broken into and robbed of a blanket, auto rug and a tweed overcoat while parked outside the Liberty Cafe. More than an hour before this a rug and blanket were picked up by police in the doorway at 1315 Broad Street. They were Mr. McDonald's property.

Visitors Spend Less Though Tourist Season Record Set

Discussing the end of Victoria's all-time record tourist season, George I. Warren, commissioner of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, said today that declarations for exemptions filed by U.S. visitors showed that they definitely were not spending the amount of money this year that they did last.

"With the high cost of living they just haven't got it to spend," Mr. Warren said, commenting on the effect on business of the tourist trade this year.

"Victoria is definitely getting the moderate income tourist," he added. "However some stores in certain lines, such as linen and china, catering especially to tourists were open only so many hours certain days, closed on other days. That would indicate that they had more customers than goods."

He commented on what he termed a "shortage of British imported goods in certain lines."

ENVISION GOOD ROADS

"Some criticisms were received by the publicity bureau on the state of the roads up-island," Mr. Warren said. "The main complaint was of the condition of roads in the Alberni area and generally north of Nanaimo. Visitors however commented that on completion of roadwork they had seen underway, the island would be well provided with good roads."

"There is no question that the reports of road conditions up-island circulated at the start of the tourist season, proved a deterring factor to travel and did some harm. However, this was counteracted by publicity of the B.C. Travel Bureau and other agencies which gave a true picture of the situation and told the tourist what he could expect."

IN PRIVATE HOMES

The publicity bureau this year established a housing bureau and 7,400 persons who could not be accommodated in hotels or auto courts were placed in private homes.

"In a few isolated cases there was apparent overcharging by certain private homes," Mr. Warren said. On each complaint the bureau made an investigation, traced the source of the complaint, sought reasons and endeavored to have the trouble rectified. In two cases refunds were made to visitors.

Despite the tremendous influx of visitors, the bureau officials said that not one person, arriving in Victoria in search of accommodation, did not secure it.

"Nobody had to sit up. Everybody was housed," Mr. Warren said. "Some 7,402 people called at the bureau offices for information during the month of August alone. Up to Sept. 30, 27,200 tourists called at the bureau for information."

FROM EVERY STATE

Cars appeared on Victoria streets from every state in the union, he said. In addition, there were 35 from Hawaii, 10 from Alaska, 1 from Great Britain, 10 from Mexico and from the Canal Zone.

Discussing the car situation, Mr. Warren said there was definitely a bottleneck at Nanaimo and Sidney, but that the situation was relieved somewhat with the placing in service of Ms. Chinook.

"Canadian Customs and Immigration officers under trying conditions handled the great influx of visitors in an expeditious and courteous manner and were widely commended by the visitors," Mr. Warren said.

He praised the people of Victoria, who responded to the bureau's appeal for accommodation for tourists who could not obtain it at hotels and auto courts.

Miss Ethel Hole and D. A. Nairne, who answered one thousand and one questions from thousands of visitors who came to the bureau office, were commended.

Mr. Warren commented on the great number of American tourists who came despite the fact that steamship fares for automobiles and passengers from points in the United States increased 30 per cent this year.

Victoria Delegates To T.C.L. Hit Reds; No Action Taken

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Split opinion on the place of Communists in the trade union movement was sharpened Thursday among delegates to the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, but they finally voted a hands-off policy, leaving individuals to their own political beliefs.

After two fiery and, at times, tumultuous debates, the 600-odd delegates refused to bar Communists from congress office and affirmed instead that the religious beliefs of members are their own business.

But the convention did—after hearing the shouted claim of one delegate that he had been threatened by Communists with "concentration" and the avowal of another delegate that he was a Communist — vote condemnation of any party or individual trying to use labor "for their own advantage."

A woman delegate—Margaret Burgoyne of Victoria — struck out at Communists.

"I have been as close to them as anyone who hasn't held a card in their organization," she declared.

"Some in Canada," she asserted, "refused to fight Germany until Russia was attacked. There is great doubt in my mind that they act as individualists. Can we say that members of the Labor Progressive Party act as individualists and form their own opinions."

George A. Wilkinson of the Victoria Trades and Labor Council called for definite action on the Communist issue. Otherwise, he said, the public would be against the congress because it would think the body was a "red-controlled organization."

The DOCTOR Says:

IT IS BEST TO REMOVE NODULAR GOITRES

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Surgical removal of a nodular goiter is recommended, if the patient develops palpitation, rapid heart action, nervousness and weight loss, even though the basal metabolic rate (breathing test) is normal.

Nodular goiters develop in persons who suffered from iodine lack in childhood. The smooth thyroid enlargement of youth is gradually transformed into a lumpy structure as the patient grows older. The neck usually becomes irregular in shape, and some of the nodules reach great size.

Nodular goiters may project into the chest and press on the trachea or nerves to the larynx. This results in shortness of breath and hoarseness which cannot be relieved until the thyroid gland is removed.

It is best if the operation for removal of the nodular goiter is postponed until the patient is past 30, because of the tendency for the nodules to reappear if the gland is removed in early life. After this age, most surgeons do not recommend delay, because of possible development of complications.

Cancer of the thyroid gland usually develops in nodular goiters. Although it may be possible to remove a malignant gland successfully, the best chance for controling cancer of the thyroid is to remove the nodules before they have become malignant.

A PROGRESSIVE DISEASE

Overactive nodular goiter is a progressive disease which ultimately results in heart failure and degeneration of vital organs. If no permanent damage to the tissues has occurred, complete recovery follows within two or three weeks after the operation.

Widespread use of foods grown on soil which contains an adequate amount of iodine, and the use of iodized table salt, means that the number of persons with nodular goiters will become less. Most victims of this disease are older persons. Occasionally a nodular goiter will be present at birth or it will develop in a young child in spite of an apparently adequate iodine supply. In such cases surgical removal is indicated.

Question: Is radium ever used in the treatment of ringworm of the scalp?

Answer: No. As a general rule, X-ray treatments are given.

Canada May Include Yugoslavia, Finland In Diplomatic Service

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada may further extend her diplomatic missions in eastern Europe, with appointments being considered, it is understood particularly to Yugoslavia and Finland.

This would be in line with the statement by External Affairs Minister St. Laurent Wednesday that Canada's election to the Security Council of the United Nations would necessitate diplomatic posts abroad being widened in scope to give the government up-to-date information to make policy on new international problems.

The main problem in any such diplomatic expansion is that of staff. The External Affairs Department has grown rapidly and is hard pressed for experienced men to fill the posts required.

In eastern Europe, Canada at present has representatives in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Russia and to have ones in Yugoslavia and Finland would round out the picture fairly well.

It is believed Yugoslavia would welcome a Canadian diplomatic mission in Belgrade. Finland would reciprocate a Canadian appointment by sending a representative here to join the expanding diplomatic corps.

MAY NAME MINISTER

Sweden also has a minister in Ottawa, although the Canadian representative in Stockholm is only a charge d'affaires, and it is possible that a minister will be appointed there. It may be Fred Palmer, the present charge d'affaires and Canadian trade commissioner, who is highly regarded by the Swedes and knows the country well.

The question of Canadian appointments to the three Balkan countries of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria is still a remote one, but it is possible that within the next six months some consideration will be given to this as well.

LONDON—Maxine Rabeau, 15, flew 1,800 miles by mistake when he boarded a plane for Stockholm at London airport. He was returned here and put on the right plane for Paris.

Merritt Blames Ottawa For Housing Shortage

VANCOUVER (CP)—The housing problem here was blamed on "bungling bureaucratic control of the construction industry and lack of an overall plan of housing finance," by C. C. I. Merritt, V.C., Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver-Burrard, in an address at the annual meeting of the Vancouver East Progressive Conservative Association Thursday night.

"Our federal government has retreated from one administrative failure to another in the two and a half years since the end of the war in attempting to deal with the housing crisis and now is completely helpless in the face of the situation," he said.

U.S. Grain Men Question Russia's "Record Crop"

NEW YORK—Russia's boast of the largest grain crops since prewar days may have a lot of chaff in it.

That's the opinion of leading U.S. grain experts, men like Richard F. Uhlmann of the Chicago Board of Trade and others who keep watch day to day on grain conditions throughout the world.

They can make only judicious guesses at what is going on in the grain fields beyond the Iron Curtain, which in prewar days produced an average of a billion bushels of wheat alone each year, but they can reasonably question Russia's boast on grounds of what they know.

They point out that:

1. The Soviet's announcement of "record crops" in Pravda and Izvestia contain no official figures in terms of tons or bushels of wheat. Instead, it goes in for jubilation and self-congratulation such as "The Soviet people can already point with satisfaction that the promise of the toilers of the fields to obtain high yields and fulfill ahead of time the state plan for grain deliveries is being carried out."

2. Weather experts say conditions in the Ukraine are similar to that of our own great plains where drought is burning up our corn.

3. The official Russian editorials admit that unprecedented efforts to save the wheat crop are being made and that stragglers are being spurred to last minute efforts. This indicates a frantic effort to get in the still-unharvested wheat before the drought burns it up.

4. The drought may well have destroyed much of the crop even though the harvest began several weeks ago, because the Russian harvesting machinery is far behind ours in mechanical perfection.

5. Heat and dryness followed by heavy rains set the Ukrainian crop back earlier this year and we have no report of how far the crop has recovered this early setback.

6. The Soviets admit transporting much of their harvesting machinery from the Ukraine to Siberia. That indicates a terrific strain on their transportation system at a time when their full transportation facilities would be needed to transport the newly harvested crop. Wheat rots quickly if left in the field waiting for transportation.

7. The eastern and central grain areas, being a little farther north than the Ukraine areas, would be more vulnerable to the present drought. The ripening grain in these areas could be burned up.

In an effort to get specific figures in tons and bushels, NEA queried Amtorg, official Russian trading organization in the United States. The Amtorg spokesman replied, "Sorry, no one here can tell you."

Uhlmann, president of the Uhlmann Grain Co., said: "It's hard even to try to figure out what's going on in Russia. Maybe their crop is the largest since prewar days. But against the assumption that the harvest was in before the drought hit the Ukraine, I'd place the facts that their harvesting machinery is so antiquated and their technical skills so questionable, that it is very likely it took them so long to harvest their crop that some of it was left in the field when the drought arrived. I'd also evaluate the confusion and transportation strain that taking their tractors from the Ukraine to Siberia caused. And I'd certainly put on the negative side the fact that their crops suffered a serious set-back in May.

"And don't overlook the difference between our reports and the Russian reports. In Russia, the government just makes a report. In the United States, telegrams on crop conditions are sent hourly all over the country and people may read and add."

The Food and Agriculture Organization of the International Emergency Food Council in Washington is an international clearing house for food reports throughout the world. A spokesman for F.A.O. said: "Although most of the crops in the Ukraine may have been saved from drought, the coarse grain crops of corn, millet and grain sorghum, because of later planting, may have suffered just as the American corn crop has suffered in the past few weeks. These coarse grains are mainly for feeding beef, milk and egg livestock."

If these feed crops are damaged by the drought, wheat will have to be used to take their place in livestock feeding, thereby restricting the human and export use of the wheat crop. That same situation prevails today in the United States.

The Russian government, in the caption to this official photo of farmers examining grain in the Ukraine, said the nation expects its biggest harvest in years. U.S. grain experts believe antique harvesting equipment, like the horse-drawn rig in the background (above), may have prevented crop being reaped before drought.

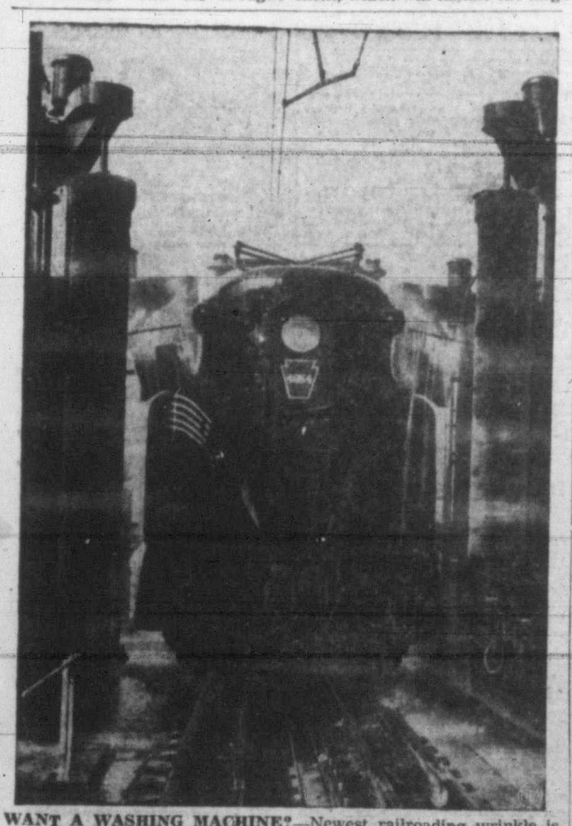
Russian tractors at Stalingrad awaiting shipment to grain fields, the official Russian caption said of this photo. U.S. grain experts point out that reports of equipment being shipped from Ukraine to Siberia for harvests there may mean transportation tie-ups, prevent harvested grain from reaching granaries before it rots.

Up To 6,000 D.P.s To Arrive By Dec. 14

MONTREAL — The largest number of immigrants to be brought to Canada since before the war, between 5,000 and 6,000 displaced persons from the British and United States-occupied zones of Germany, will arrive at Halifax between now and Dec. 14. This information was made known here by the Canadian National Railways traffic department, which will handle the large rail movement to all sections of the Dominion.

First liner to arrive will be the General Stewart, due Oct. 9, said M. R. Doke, general passenger agent, C.N.R. She will bring 774 persons, including 100 girls for domestic service. Ten of the 1,000 scheduled to come to Canada arrived in September, five going to Ste. Agathe, Que., and the others to Ottawa. Of the second group five will go to Charlottetown, seven to Moncton, 35 to Montreal, five to Ste. Agathe, six to Belleville, 10 to Kitchener, 32 to Winnipeg, and 10 to Calgary.

The remaining 675 of the liner's passengers will be going to work in the lumber industry in Ontario, in some cases bringing members of their families.



WANT A WASHING MACHINE?—Newest railroading wrinkle is this semi-automatic locomotive washer, at the Pennsylvania Railroad's Sunnyside Yard, New York, which will wash an engine in 15 minutes, in contrast to the three hours consumed by hand washing. The 300-foot apparatus uses revolving sprays of hot water and steam, with huge horizontal and vertical brushes to do the scrubbing.

Eight Rangers Sign For N.H.L. Campaign

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, watched New York Rangers go through a brisk workout against New Haven Ramblers, a farm club.

Also in the gallery were John Reid Kilpatrick, president of Madison Square Garden, and Lester Patrick, former Ranger manager and Garden vice-president.

Bill Juzda, rugged defenceman, quit early because of a severe cold, but will be ready for the exhibition game the teams will play Saturday. Herb Bourgeois has a cut over the right eye, and Tony Leswick, who pulled up with a charley horse Wednesday, is getting back into shape.

Eight Rangers have signed contracts. They are Buddy O'Connor, Frankie Eddolls, Phil Watson, Harry Bell, Neil Colville, Edgar Laprade, Bill Moe and Rene Trudell.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Never underestimate the power of a woman department: In Hakim-Litvak's "The Long Night," now at the Capitol, an RKO Radio release, Henry Fonda is begged for several hours by 450 of his townspeople and 50 policemen to come out of his besieged lodgings to face a murder charge. It finally takes Barbara Bel Geddes, his girl, to persuade him to do so.

Bergman Prepares To Play Joan Of Arc Before Cameras

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ingrid Bergman, who now is achieving her life's ambition by filming Joan of Arc, is wondering if Joan will become her "Frankenstein's monster."

Two French actresses made film versions of the saint. Neither has made another film since that one. Bergman, like most actresses, is a little superstitious. But her worries about the future are based mainly on whether she will have enthusiasm for future stories.

"It's like building a house," she said. "While you are building it you can't think or plan anything else. And when the house is completed what can you do?"

Bergman has been living the role of Joan for almost a year. She is probably one of the best informed people on the French saint, barring a few Ph.D.'s. I watched her as actors, trying out for parts, came on the set.

"Oh, he is the Dauphin," she shouted as Jose Ferrer approached.

STUDIES CHARACTERS

She has studied the characters in the story so carefully that she knows what they should look like. And her joy at seeing them come to life can be compared only to a scientist's joy upon completing a difficult formula.

Her associates on the film are impressed with her Joan-like qualities. During difficult moments in preparing the film (it will cost more than $4,000,000), Bergman would up and quote from Joan. Gets a little spooky.

Fortunately Miss B. has but one definite commitment when she completes this film. That is "Under Capricorn," to be made for Alfred Hitchcock. No other film stories have aroused her interest. "Joan" is too much competition. And as for plays, she wants to return to Broadway soon. But again, no play has caught her fancy — except "Joan."

"And if I don't find one," Ingrid laughed, "I'll go back and play 'Joan' again — but in a couple of years." Otherwise, Bergman on film would be competing with Bergman on stage.

ATLAS THEATRE

Bob Porterfield, who helped Gregory Peck and many another young actor along the road to success as director of the famed Barter Theatre at Abingdon, Virginia, is now in the movies himself.

Porterfield, whose Blue Ridge repertory theatre was an endowed finishing school for some of the most talented of Broadway stage players, has a role as the mate on a Florida river boat in Peck's new picture, "The Yearling," technicolor filmization of the Pulitzer prize-winning novel by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. The M-G-M hit is now being shown on the Atlas screen, with Jane Wyman and Claude Jarman Jr. in pivotal roles as Ma and Jody Baxter.

'For Love Of Rusty' Opens At Dominion

"For the Love of Rusty," Columbia's third film in the popular "Rusty" series, will open at the Dominion Theatre today. Ted Donaldson repeats his role as Rusty's young master, while Tom Powers, Ann Doran, Aubrey Mather and Sid Tomack are also featured. The original screenplay was written by Malcolm Stuart Boylan and directed by John Sturges for producer John Haggott.

RIO THEATRE

One of the best all-around athletes in the film colony is Dennis O'Keefe, whose latest picture, "The Fighting Seabees," is playing at the Rio Theatre with John Wayne and Susan Hayward in the leading roles.

While attending Hollywood High School Dennis excelled in such sports as football, baseball, basketball and track. His first ambition was to be a big league ball player, and even today he could qualify as a better-than-average pitcher. He is equally adept at golf, tennis and handball.

ROYAL THEATRE

"Variety Girl," Paramount's spectacular, all-out musical comedy that has been eagerly awaited ever since the announcement of its going into production, is currently at the Royal Theatre, and now it can be reported that the waiting has been richly rewarded.

The star-studded, laugh-filled and melodic extravaganza has just about everything desirable in motion picture entertainment.

PLAZA THEATRE

Lou Costello's protege, beautiful blonde Joan Fulton, gets the break she's been waiting for with the top femme role in Abbott and Costello's "Buck Privates Come Home," the Universal-International picture now at the Plaza Theatre.

Lou spotted the statuesque Joan hoofing it in the chorus at Monte Prosser's Copacabana in New York in September of 1945 and signed her to a personal contract for films.

IN MEMORIAM

DE MACEDO—In loving memory of Flying Officer John Bernard Joseph de Macedo, R.C.A.F., who died of injuries sustained on active service overseas Oct. 3, 1943.
"Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord, and let perpetual light shine upon him. May he rest in peace."
—Inserted by his loving parents and brother Frank.

PEEBLES—In loving memory of Mrs. Emily Peebles, who passed away Oct. 3, 1942.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
—Ever remembered by the family.

WILMSHURST—In loving memory of James Wilmshurst, who passed away Oct. 3, 1944.
In that blessed land called heaven,
I pray we once more be
United as we were on earth,
For all eternity.
—Ever remembered by his loving wife and sons James, Fred and George, grandchildren and brother Fred.

BUILDING SUPPLIES

HOME BUILDERS' BARGAINS
LUMBER
In order to give the consumer the advantage of being able to purchase at the lowest possible price we have made arrangements to deliver truck load lots of lumber direct from mill to customers' jobs and eliminate all yard rehandling costs. These truck loads will contain either shiplap, common flooring, surfaced boards, 2x4 and 2x3. This lumber is all mill grade and the regular price is $35 per thousand feet. If you are in the position to take delivery of truck load quantity of 7,000 or 8,000 feet the price is $29 per thousand or a saving of roughly 20%. These materials are excellent for sheating, framing, plates, etc. We will be pleased to show you these goods at our yard.

Doubts Importance Of Fishing Known

B.C.'s fishing industry will continue as an asset as long as conservation is observed, according to George E. Alexander, deputy minister of fisheries, who doubts if the majority of British Columbians appreciate the extent and importance of the industry.

Mr. Alexander, in an address before the Oak Bay Kiwanis Club Thursday evening, pointed out two other principal industries of the province, mining and lumbering, were producing from a decreasing asset, while fishing, if the provincial fish stock is kept up to and above par, will be a source of revenue for generations to come.

Although most people are under the impression the fishing industry refers mainly to salmon fishing, there are 20 varieties of commercial fish which play an important part in the industry, the deputy minister said.

Fourth largest basic industry in B.C., fishing extends along 2,500 miles of coastline and provides employment for nearly 20,000 people. It is surpassed by only three other basic industries, mining, lumbering and agriculture. In 1945, fishing produced $45,000,000 from a $37,000,000 investment.

In the war, fishermen set a record in which B.C. can take pride, Mr. Alexander continued. Fishing fleets were depleted when younger men joined the service. The best fishing skippers were taken in the naval reserve. After Pearl Harbor, 22,000 Japanese fishing boats were impounded and Canada took over seine boats for patrol work.

Asked to boost the herring output in three years, the industry brought the pack up from a prewar 25,000 cases a year to an annual pack of more than 1,000,000 cases.

C. C. Annett, Kiwanis director, introduced Mr. Alexander, who was thanked by W. B. Monteith.

Planning A.Y.P.A. Conference Here

Left to right: Bill Allen entertainment committee; Betty Ireland, treasurer; Margaret Allen, banquet and dance; Dorothy Ellis, program; Norman Williams, chairman. Seated is Eileen James, registrar.

More than 200 representatives are expected to attend the 17th annual B.C. Provincial Conference of the A.Y.P.A., to be held at Christ Church Cathedral, Oct. 11, 12 and 13.

Some 150 registrations have been received to date. The conference committee under Norman Williams has arrangements well in hand.

Dean Spencer H. Elliott will open the conference at 2 on the afternoon of Oct. 11. There will be a banquet and dance in the evening. On Sunday morning, Oct. 12, there will be a Corporate Communion at 8. Commission sessions will be held morning and afternoon and installation of the Provincial Council officers at the evening service in Christ Church Cathedral.

The conference will continue Monday with a short Thanksgiving service at St. John's Church followed by a commission session in the morning and a plenary session, which will wind up the business of the conference Monday afternoon. The conference will conclude with a social program in the Memorial Hall Monday evening.

In addition to members of the conference committee pictured are the following who were absent when the picture was taken: Audrey Gray, secretary; Rev. F. E. M. Tomalin and Cora Manton, commissions; Joyce Dixon, programs; Doug. George, billeting and Warren George, publicity.

Conservatives Say Subervsion Grows In Commonwealth

BRIGHTON, Eng. (CP)—A charge that within the British Commonwealth there "is growing an ever-increasing Communist, Red socialist organization, anti-King, anti-British and anti-Empire," today highlighted the debate on Empire affairs during the Conservative Party annual convention.

The allegation was levelled by Andrew Fountaine, M.P. for Norfolk, during the morning session of the second day of the convention. He told the delegates:

"Behind the iron curtain is a highly-trained, highly-organized army of 2,000,000 men and women who are trained in three things—sabotage, espionage and as agents and provocateurs. They exist today in every country in the world and in the Dominions overseas.

"You've heard . . . what happened in the Canadian spy trials—how highly-placed Canadians had been subverted.

"These matters . . . have eventually culminated in a socialist government in this country with all its attendant foulness."

He urged adoption of a resolution "to root out the ever-increasing subversive foreign influence in our own country and the dominions overseas." This and other resolutions dealing with Empire matters will be voted on at the opening of tomorrow's session.

Oliver Stanley, member for Bristol West, suggested that any imperial charter which the party might lay down as a companion piece to the industrial charter, should be written bearing in mind that the United Kingdom was only one of the several parties concerned. It shouldn't attempt to dictate Empire policy but should simply declare Conservative faith in the hope that others will follow the same road.

L. M. S. Amery, former Dominions Secretary, said:

"This Empire cannot sustain its rightful leadership in the world unless it has behind it material and economic strength.

"We cannot ask the dominions to take a larger share of the burden of defence of the Empire unless we help them develop their resources and build up their population on which the burden must rest.

Palestine Continues As Hottest Issue Now Before United Nations

LAKE SUCCESS (CP)—Palestine today continued about the hottest issue before the United Nations as the special committee resumed discussions without any indication of when the United States and Great Britain would express their detailed views on the special commission's recommendations for partition of the Holy Land.

Thursday the Jewish case was submitted by Dr. Hillel Silver, speaking for the Jewish Agency of Palestine. It was a reluctant but unqualified acceptance of the partition plan and complete rejection of the minority report recommending a Jewish-Arab federal state.

FIGHT TO THE LAST

Earlier this week the Arab Higher Committee had declared its determination to fight to the last the partition plan or the establishment of a Jewish state in the Holy Land.

Now the committee will hear from delegation leaders of the 57-member powers, but it is not believed the U.S. or British statement will be made until the general feelings of the Assembly have been recorded.

The outcome most generally expected here is that some solution will be proposed which will be more agreeable to one side than the other and that the United Nations will have to take responsibility for enforcing it with some sort of international policing arrangement. That presumably would mean contributions of armed forces by member nations for that specific purpose.

Twelve other separate committees and councils are meeting at varying times, in addition to the Palestine committee.

NUMEROUS SPEAKERS

A long list of speakers, including a Canadian delegate, was ready for the resumed debate on the Greek-Balkan troubles, which Bulgarian and Albanian spokesmen declared Thursday were entirely the product of Greek scheming and United States planning for an armed outpost in Greece to further American plans in the Mediterranean.

Late today the Security Council will resume consideration of the conflict between the Netherlands and the Indonesians, working on a confidential report from consular agents in the East Indies which is believed to confirm that clashes continue in spite of the cease-fire order issued at request of the U.N.

Tie With Farm Club

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League spotted their farm hands, Kansas City Plamors of the United States League, three goals here Thursday and came back to earn a 5 to 5 tie in the first game of their preseason western tour.

The teams meet at Regina tomorrow night before moving to Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary and Winnipeg.

Most D.P.'s In Germany Ask Home In Canada, Says Abbott On Return

LONDON (CP)—Finance Minister Douglas Abbott of Canada, returning from a tour of the continent, said today he had gained the impression that at least 80 per cent of the displaced persons in Germany would like to emigrate to Canada.

"The exceptions," the minister added, "are the Jewish people."

"The majority of those with whom I talked wanted to go back to Palestine, while the minority who wanted to go to Canada seemed influenced by the fact they have relatives there."

Abbott, who is to sail aboard the liner Queen Mary for Canada tomorrow, traveled through France, Germany and Sweden, where he inspected new housing schemes which might "give us ideas for Canada."

"I have no doubt these people would make excellent settlers," he said. "They are industrious, ingenious and clean-living—just the kind of people Canada needs most."

At one displaced persons camp in Germany the minister met "five types of men and women who seemed to regard Canada as a land of promise because it was not too settled and still underdeveloped."

In answer to many anxious inquiries regarding dependents, Abbott told would-be emigrants it was essential that the heads of families should find work and accommodation in Canada before bringing out their wives and children.

He said he "found it hard to impress on these people that Canada, too, has a housing shortage."

The minister said that while Canada now is planning to absorb some 16,000 displaced persons from Europe "I've no doubt that we shall have room for many more yet."

Danish Underground Leader Describes Nazi Occupation

Members of the Victoria Rotary Club were given a clear, although grim, definition of the term "Nazi occupation" when addressed at their Thursday meeting by Camillo Carlsen of Denmark, who served during the war as an underground leader in Copenhagen.

Mr. Carlsen explained how Denmark thought herself protected by a non-aggression treaty with Hitler and told what a shock it was when German troops, numbering about 100,000, swept across the border on April 9, 1941. "Our combined forces totaled not more than 15,000 but we did our best," he said. "However, we soon realized that against such odds we would all be wiped out in a matter of days. The Germans told us if we let them put in a small occupation force, they would let us rule ourselves and keep a small army. We agreed and German troops settled down all over the country.

"They were very kind to us at first because they thought it would be good to use us for propaganda purposes."

Within a few weeks, the Danes were uniting to protest the occupation, Mr. Carlsen said.

The real underground movement did not get fully established until the fall of 1941, the speaker continued. Britain sent a number of secret agents into the country to help organize the groups.

During the following year the underground workers caused 17,000 explosions and derailed nearly 800 trains.

In the summer of 1944, Mr. Carlsen was discovered to be a member of the underground and was picked up by six S.S. men.

"They took me to a house in the country where different men questioned me for 15 hours without a break," he said. "They used different methods of questioning. They would give me a cigarette and then they would take it away from me. At times they kicked me.

"During the next few weeks they questioned me at intervals. Then, one day, they put all I had said in answer to their questions on a typewritten sheet. They also added some things I did not say. They made me sign the paper . . . they had ways of making you sign."

Mr. Carlsen explained that once the paper had been signed the prisoner was either executed or deported to a concentration camp. In Mr. Carlsen's case the latter was done.

Steels Lead Fast Buying Flurry

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market average today registered its fifth successive advance for the first time in three months on the third 1,000,000-share session since late July.

A fast buying flurry in steels, oils and assorted industrials appeared before midday with favorites up fractions to two or more points.

Canadian issues varied. Hiram Walker gained ¾ while Distillers Seagrams added ¼. Canadian Pacific was up ⅛. Dome Mines was down ⅜ and McIntyre lost ¼.

On the curb Lake Shore and Giant Yellow Knife were inactive.

Dow Jones Closing Averages:
30 industrials 179.52, up 1.05
20 rails 49.11, up 0.60
15 utilities 35.50, up 0.05
65 stocks 64.35, up 0.42
Total sales, 1,270,000.

Strong Industrial List Develops

TORONTO (CP)—A strong industrial list developed on the Toronto Stock Exchange with newsprints, liquors and steels leading the upward move. Mining issues, however, were neglected except for some selective trading in better class golds and base metals while western oils traded firmly within narrow range.

An opening downward trend in newsprints was reversed about noon and losses were converted to gains ranging up to more than two points in relatively heavy trade for several issues in the list. Liquors were firm all day.

Toronto Closing Index:
20 industrials 171.27, up 1.40
20 golds 115.10, off 0.91
10 base metals 82.26, up 0.63
15 western oils 25.41, up 0.07
Total sales, 966,000.

The health board today recommended that the city solicitor, medical health officer and parks administrator prepare a by-law to regulate keeping of dogs in small animal hospitals, kennels and domestic institutions, Ald. J. D. Hunter, chairman, said. This follows representations by the S.P.C.A.

90,000 B.C. Children Expected To Join Junior Red Cross

Nearly 1,000,000 children in Canada will become members of the Junior Red Cross during enrollment week, Oct. 5 to 10, as young Canadians in school rooms across the Dominion pledge "to keep the rules of health and help others who need help."

In British Columbia it is expected that nearly 90,000 of the national 900,000 anticipated enrollment will become Junior Red Cross members. Last year an all-time registration high of nearly 79,000 was reached, with 2,417 branches formed in this province. These members contributed $25,748 to the B.C. Crippled and Handicapped Children's Fund and to National Service Fund, the money raised by their own efforts.

For many in the primary grades who have only recently learned to write, their names on the Junior Red Cross register will be their first official signatures.

To older children and high school students, Enrollment Week is a familar annual event. It is their opportunity to join anew the world-wide youth organization of 32,000,000 members which works for health, good citizenship and international understanding.

In 29,158 classroom branches, Canadian juniors plan and organize their own Red Cross activities under a unified five-point program including. The promotion of health, relief of child victims of war, entertainment and comfort of veterans in hospital, crippled children's work in Canada, international exchange of correspondence. Members take their cause seriously, which is one of the reasons why membership is renewable each year.

"Although some students can look back on 10 or more years of membership, since kindergarten days," explains Miss Jeanne E. Browne, national director of the movement, "Junior Red Cross is not a matter of habit. Membership expires with the end of the school term in the spring. In the fall of each year, during enrollment week, students decide again whether they wish to rejoin—and most of them do. In this way their enthusiasm and whole-hearted support is assured."

Last year Canadian membership totaled more than 850,000.

Eagles To Establish Benefit Fund For Sick, Unemployed

Plans for the establishment of an unemployment and sick fund for members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles were revealed by Bill Bridgewood, secretary-treasurer of the organization, at a semianual producers' banquet of Victoria Eagles held Thursday evening in Prince Robert House.

The establishment of such a fund would be beneficial to every member, Mr. Bridgewood said. He noted that the plan would be International in scope, taking in both Canada and the United States.

Presiding over the meeting, which was held for all Victoria Eagles who had brought new members into the organization during the past six months, was Joe Wright. It was announced that 146 new members had been signed up since the last producers' banquet.

Entertainment at the banquet was supplied by the Eagles' concert party and band.

5 Executed By Gas

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Five men in their twenties, two whites and three negroes, went to their deaths today in the state gas chamber.

Richard McCain and Jethro Lampkin, Charlotte negroes, died first. They were convicted of killing a coal dealer in a robbery.

Next were two white men, Robert Messer and Earl O'Dear, sentenced for the hammer slaying of a Sylvia taxi driver and his wife.

Last to go was Willie Cherry, a negro, convicted of first degree burglary.

Coldwell Charges Goods Delayed

OTTAWA (CP) — M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, today charged "many Canadian manufacturers" with holding their products off the markets until government decontrol action permitted them to make the profits they demanded.

He made the charge in a speech recorded here for distribution by C.C.F. clubs to local radio stations.

1st Postwar Yacht Brings Yeast King To Victoria Today

The luxury yacht Haida, owned by millionaire yeast king Max Fleischmann, slid into its berth at the C.P.R. docks at noon today.

Mr. Fleischmann appeared to be worried about the paint on his ship, and spent most of the berthing time going along the promenade deck supervising the docking.

Appearing first bareheaded, he stopped to speak to each seaman to instruct him about the convas-covered bumpers used to protect the ship from dockside.

He next appeared, wearing a yachting cap this time, on the bridge of his ship where he spoke to Capt. D. Welch, master of the vessel.

Haida sailed from Maine, where she was built, earlier this year, and came around, via the Panama Canal to Santa Barbara, where Mr. Fleischmann saw his yacht, the first postwar private vessel of its type, for the first time. According to Capt. Welch, Mr. Fleischmann was very pleased with his ship.

After a cruise up the west U.S. coast, the Haida called in here at Cadboro Bay a short time ago and then proceeded on an Alaskan voyage from which she has just returned.

Mr. Fleischmann will remain here with his yacht for a few days, probably for the full week-end before sailing down the U.S. Pacific coast.

Barge Co. States Costs Up 122% To Justify Rate Rise

Cost of operations for the Vancouver Barge Transportation Ltd. have increased 122 per cent since 1939 the City Council was informed today in answer to its query about the increase in coastal freight rates.

This includes such items as fuel oils, food and labor, the company officials claim. They also state that labor unions are now negotiating for further increases, which will probably be accepted in part at least by the company.

They claim too, that much of the floating equipment has not been replaced since 1937, and that with increased operations during war years depreciation was accelerated.

"If we wish to stay in competitive business," the company stated, "we simply must have sufficient margin of profit to take care of new equipment, both afloat and ashore."

They also recalled that 20 years ago the company was instrumental in reducing rates from Vancouver to Victoria from $12 a ton to $3.

Huge Lumber Cargo For United Kingdom

The freighter Samson sailed from Victoria Thursday night with 2,000,000 feet of lumber loaded here for the United Kingdom, Sam Peat of King Bros. Ltd., shipping agents, reported today.

The Polish ship Kilinski of Gdyna, Poland, will sail this evening from Cowichan Bay with 1,000,000 feet of lumber she loaded there. She will go to Copenhagen, Denmark, and the U.K.

The Joseph H. Hollister is scheduled to sail from Cowichan Bay Saturday morning with 1,000,000 feet of lumber for Portugese East Africa.

Appealing Against Award Of Damages

The appeal of Crucil F. & M. Ltd., against a judgment of Mr. Justice Manson awarding a sum of $2,544 in damages to Herbert Armishaw, a farmer, began in Appeal Court today.

The logging company is appealing against the judgment which held him responsible for damages caused to the property of the Cranberry district farmer while cutting timber in the area. Armishaw in his action claimed that the appellant had broke down fences on his land allowing sheep and cattle to destroy his potato crop.

One Woman's Day

PASSING PARADE

WHILE THE SPOTLIGHT is being turned on Canada's immigration problem, another passing parade of skills is being overlooked by many people.

It is the growing trek of many of our key workers across the border into the United States. And the fact that the number increased by 15 per cent in the year ending June, 1947, shows that it can't be ignored as a passing phase.

In the year 1944-45 about 10,000 migrated south; in the next year it rose to 20,434, but last year it reached 23,467.

These figures were released recently by the Immigration and Nationalization Service of the U.S. Department of Justice, so there is no question of their authenticity.

NURSES AND DOCTORS

IN VIEW OF THE GROWING shortage of nurses in Canada, it is a little alarming to learn that nurses form the largest single group in the migrants.

No less than 429 trained and student nurses left Canada to seek their future careers in American hospitals and sick-rooms.

Second largest group was composed of over 300 engineers, mostly highly skilled members of the mechanical, chemical and metallurgical fields of engineering.

In all, 2,479 professional workers sought employment opportunities across the border, of whom 1,390 were men and 1,089 were women.

And it is interesting to note that this group included 267 teachers, 206 physicians and surgeons, as well as 167 clergymen and 186 religious workers.

SKILLED CRAFTSMEN

IT'S A LITTLE DISTURBING to read that, even larger than the number of professional migrants was the exodus of skilled mechanics.

For instance, craftsmen and foremen lured to American opportunities numbered 1,443, and "operatives"—whatever that may signify—totalled 1,283.

And while American women seem as loth to enter domestic service as do Canadians, juding by the press reports of the shortage, no less than 752 avowed domestic workers left Canada to work in U.S. homes last year.

Even the farmers evidently think distant fields are greener, for 722—including four women—described themselves thus in their applications for entry.

MANY YOUNG PEOPLE

OF COURSE, I DON'T KNOW how many of the emigrants intend to stick to their occupation category once they settle over there. But we in Canada need just the very skills which seem to be leaving us.

And most disturbing of all, it seems to be the younger ones who are going south.

For the U.S. analysis shows that over half the Canadians who moved away last year—and the 23,467 include wives and children as well—were between the ages of 15 and 34.

And, excluding the children under 14, about 80 per cent of the total were under 44 years of age. This, of course, is to be expected in any migration, as the older ones find it harder to uproot themselves.

CANADIANS RETURN

ON THE FACE OF IT, this movement looks disquieting—and I am not minimizing its significance.

But there is another more hopeful side to this passing parade. It is that, during the same period as these 23,467 Canadians left for the United States, some 18,872 moved from there into this Dominion.

And of these, 8,121 were returning Canadians. The other 10,751 were Americans lured by the opportunities offered in this great and growing country, so the difference in human out-go and in-come was only 4,595.

But even at that, we lost out—and we can't afford to, in view of the imperative need in this country of skilled workers and increased production.

Claude Howard To Head Elk Lodge

Members of the B.P.O.E., Lodge No. 2, returned Claude C. Howard to his former position of Exalted Ruler at their 35th annual election of officers held Thursday evening. Mr. Howard held this office for several years up until 1945 when he was succeeded by J. R. Begg. Mr. Begg is now immediate past Exalted Ruler.

R. P. Collins was elected Leading Knight, R. E. Jones was put into office as Loyal Knight, and B. Dixon was made Lecturing Knight. Elected as Inner Guard was C. V. Mackie. Elected Tyler was A. H. Johnston.

Other officers elected were: C. V. Milton, secretary-treasurer; P. A. Fitzsimmons, trustee for two years, and R. Hayward Jr. trustee for one year.

The newly-elected officers will be installed to office on Nov. 6 at an installation ceremony in the Elks' Hall, 732 Cormorant Street.
